

Ferry may get 2-year reprieve

By JIM BEAM
AMERICAN PRESS

The Monkey Island Ferry at Cameron may live to float another two years, and portions of three highways in Southwest Louisiana may get new names.

Measures designed to keep the ferry operating until a bridge can be built and to rename highways in Southwest Louisiana received favorable reports in Baton Rouge last week from the Senate Transportation, Highways and Public Works Committee.

Tina Horn, Cameron Parish administrator, and Charles Precht, president of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, spoke in support of keeping the Monkey Island Ferry operating.

Horn said seven families are served by the ferry, and it is their only way to get to their homes. She said the West Cameron Port Authority also has property on the island that is ready for economic development.

Kam Movassaghi, secretary of the State Department of Transportation and Development, said his department supports keeping the ferry operating, he said there have been some clearance problems holding up the bridge construction, but he thinks they will be resolved in a couple of years.

Sen. Jerry Theunissen, R-Jennings, is sponsor of the Monkey Island legislation. He said the cost of operating the ferry for two years is about $450,000.

Service set for troops

The Touch of Care Ministries will hold a prayer, praise and worship service for our soldiers in Iraq and their families. The service is scheduled for Thurs., Apr. 24 at 7 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Recreation Center.

If you would like to participate in this program contact Beatrice Williams at 337-775-5759.

Prayer Day set for May 1 here

The annual observance of the World Day of Prayer in Cameron will be held Thursday, May 1 at noon on the Courthouse lawn, according to Louise Cole, president of the Cameron NAACP Chapter. Call 775-5240 for more information.

Dinner told for senior citizens

All senior citizens are invited to attend a luncheon on Sunday, May 18 at the M. J. Bernard Life Center at 12 noon. The center is located behind Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Creole.

The meal and entertainment is being sponsored by the Sacred Heart and St. Rose Altar Societies and Court Mary Olive Catholic Daughters. After the meal entertainment will be provided by local musicians.

Grand Lake school bond election called by Board

By CYNDI SELLERS

The Cameron Parish School Board voted Monday to call a special election in School District 4--the Grand Lake area--to finance new construction at Grand Lake High School.

The school presently has an enrollment of 605 students and is seriously overcrowded. Six rotations are needed in the lunchroom to feed all of the children.

The school is presently using 8 or 9 temporary buildings to provide space for all of the classes.

The proposed $5 million bond issue would require 35 mills to retire.

MILLAGES RENEWED

Parish-wide and district school millages were renewed with all remaining the same with the exception of the Hackberry district where the millage was increased from 10 to 25 mills.

The board was told that the increase was due to Hickman Towing leaving the district and removing $2 million from the tax base.

PERSONNEL

Under personnel matters, the board approved medical leaves for Helen Theriot, food service manager, South Cameron Elementary, and for Diana Taylor, clerk, Grand Lake High.

The resignation of Virgie Nunez, sweeper at South Cameron High, was accepted effective May 30.

FARMING LEASE

The board approved a proposal from Philip Boudreaux to lease School Section 16-12-11 at Gum Cove for crawfish farming.

The lease, which will be approved at the next board meeting, calls for a 5-year lease at $10,000 a year. The east half of the section where there is a rookery and water impoundment is not to be disturbed.

FIELD TRIPS

The board approved these student field trips:

*Mrs. Bobbye Delaney's 8th grade Earth Science class to visit the Houston Space Center on May 8.

*Johnson Bayou High 9th grade Physical Science class to attend Physics Day in Houston on May 9.

*Gifted and Talented students and Eva January's 6th graders to the Houston Museum of Natural History.

*Mrs. Virginia Jones' 1st grade section A to to the Houston Aquarium on May 2.

*Mrs. Janice Dupon's 4th grade to go to the Johnson Space Center in Houston on May 10.

BUDGET REPORT

School Board accountant Margaret Jones reported that on budget of $14,804,487, a surplus of $474,011 was projected.

However, since $505,715 in taxes was paid under protest, the actual available funds reflect a deficit of $32,000. She said this could change if the tax situation changes and if royalties and interest rates go up.

TRAVEL EXPENSES

The board approved $500 each for travel expenses for six FBLA students from Hackberry High and two from South Cameron High to attend the National Leadership Conference in Dallas in June. The students will be competing at national level.

Johnson B. meeting set

A community meeting will be held at the Johnson Bayou Community Center at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 29 to give parents, family members and others the opportunity to visit with School Board Member Clifton Morris and Dr. Doug Chance, Superintendent.

The public is invited to ask questions about the schools.

Similar meetings have been held in other communities of the parish.

Parishwide service set here to support troops

By CYNDI SELLERS

A parishwide Prayer, Praise, and Worship Service in support of U. S. troops has been organized. The interdenominational service will be held Thursday, April 24, at 7 p.m. at the Cameron Recreation Center on Trosclair Road.

Organizers are asking for participation by churches, businesses, parish leaders, and the public at large. The event is being coordinated by Mrs. Bertrice Williams of Touch of Care Ministries. Anyone wishing to help contact her at 775-7559.

Some needs are: refreshments, decorations, candles, program volunteers, musicians, and ideas.

Tentatively scheduled so far are praise and worship, patriotic music, a candle level. The board also approved $500 each for Mary Baker, Hackberry FBLA sponsor, and Sandra Hession, South Cameron FBLA sponsor, to attend the conference.

TEAM RECOGNIZED

The Hackberry girls basketball team and their coach were recognized by the board.

The team won the Class C state championship recently their third in the past four years. The team has won 143 games and lost only 16 in four years.

Reports on 4-H activities at South Cameron High School were given by Joby Richard and Shylyn Nunez.

SEX EDUCATION

The teen pregnancy rate in Cameron Parish (ages 19 and under) dropped from 89 percent in 1998 to 29.9 percent in 2001, according to Stephanie Rodrigue, supervisor. (These figures include both unmarried and married females.)

Sexually transmitted diseases are a bigger problem than teen pregnancy in Cameron Parish according to health professionals, Mrs. Rodrigue said. She said that eating disorders also are a problem among parish teens.

Easter hunt set at Creole

Grand Knight Loston McEvers announces the J. P. Boudoin Sr. K. C. Council 3014 of Creole will conduct an Easter egg hunt for Sacred Heart Church Easter Sunday, after the 8:30 a.m. mass.

All Knights are asked to furnish one dozen boiled dyed eggs or anyone wishing to donate eggs, please bring the Life Center before 8:30 a.m. mass. Many thanks to Father Joseph McGrath for sponsoring this for our youth.

Griffith is retiring after 46 years as parish journalist

BY JERRY WISE

Geneva Griffith, who has been a writer and photographer for the Cameron Parish Pilot for 46 years, is retiring from her reporting duties due to health reasons.

Geneva fell and dislocated an implant in one of her eyes last August. She has had two operations and may have a cornea implant at a later date.

She recently had a successful cataract operation on her other eye.

Geneva started writing for the Pilot in December, 1956, just two months after the Pilot was established in October of that year. She began writing the news of the Oak Grove community.

On June 27, 1957 Hurricane Audrey hit Cameron Parish and Geneva and her family survived the storm by clinging to a tree after their house was swept away. However, her father-in-law died in the storm.

She and her husband and two children evacuated to Lake Charles as did most residents of Lower Cameron.

Although the Pilot missed one issue, the one that would have come out on the day the storm, the paper was back in operation the following week and on Aug. 23, Geneva resumed her weekly column.

Entitled "Lagniappe with the Refugees," the column reported on the whereabouts and doings of Cameron parish folks that Geneva encountered in Lake Charles.

The Lagniappe column continued through September and October and Geneva was able to continue her Oak Grove column on Nov. 1 after she and her family returned to Oak Grove.

In 1958 Geneva was named Louisiana's Country Correspondent of the Year by the Louisiana Press Association based on her "Lagniappe" column.

Geneva later became a reporter at large for the Cameron Pilot (and also for the Lake Charles American Press) and for over four decades she was a "one woman news bureau" for Cameron Parish covering a large portion of the meetings and news events for the newspapers.

During that time she won numerous awards for her reporting from the Louisiana Press Assoc., Louisiana Press Women Assoc. and the National Press Women Assoc.

In 1990 she received the Mass Media Award of the

Geneva Griffith

Louisiana County Agents Assoc. and that same year she was named Cameron Parish's Citizen of the Year by the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, primarily for her news coverage of parish events and organizations.

In 1992 she received the Louisiana Press Women's Communicator of the Year award.

She covered the Pope's visit to New Orleans. She traveled with a French-language group from Louisiana to France where she covered a meeting with the French president. She wrote numerous articles about overseas trips, including Russia.

Throughout these years, Geneva held a full time job as a secretary for the ASCS office and later for the Cameron District Attorney's office. She gathered and wrote her news during the noon hour, at night and on the weekends.

Following her retirement from the District Attorney's office several years ago, Geneva began covering the Cameron Parish Police Jury and School Board meetings for the Pilot.

Although Geneva would have like to continue writing the news for the Pilot, her inability to drive due to her eyesight has made this difficult to do.

Geneva plans to continue living in her home at Oak Grove next to her son, Leslie, and his wife. She also plans to spend some time with her daughter, Cherie Giblin and her husband in Baton Rouge. She has three grandchildren.

And whenever possible, Geneva plans to continue to visit her old kindergarten classmates in Port Arthur where she grew up.

Geneva was married to D. W. Griffith for 29 years before his death in 1972.

Sunrise Service set

The Cameron Ministerial Alliance will hold an Easter Sunrise Service at 6:30 p.m. at Grand Chenier Park.

Rev. Garry Mann, of Big Lake Tabernacle will be the guest speaker. Charles Primeaux and Freddie Theriot will provide the music. There will be a fellowship after the service at Grand Chenier Methodist Church.

Ebenezer Baptist church on Trosclair Road, will host a Sunrise Service beginning at 5 a.m. It is a combined effort of Ebenezer and Macedonia Baptist Churches and Bargeman Memorial Church of God in Christ. Rev. Charles Porter, pastor of Bargeman Memorial, will be this year's speaker.

Cameron Pilot, April 16, 1970 GAS SYSTEM

A bill to empower the Cameron Parish Police Jury to construct or purchase a natural gas system for the parish will be introduced in the Louisiana Legislature which convenes May 11.

The bill would permit the financing of the system through the issuance of general obligation bonds to be retired with a property or revenue tax or both.

The police jury, at its meeting last week, discussed the possibility of expropriating the United Gas Co. gas system in Cameron Parish on the grounds that the company has not provided gas service for all of the residents of the parish.

Thomas J. Lee, Jr., manager of United Gas operations for the Lake Charles District, issued the following statement in regards to a request for "gas service to more Cameron Parish residents," made by the Parish Police Jury at its regular meeting April 7.

According to Lee, United Gas now serves approximately 1,132 customers in Cameron Parish, and stands ready to extend service to additional customers or into additional areas whenever and wherever such extensions are feasible.

FUZZ TOWN

By Mrs. John Prescott
Oil was first discovered at Johnson Bayou in the early thirties by alligator hunter, Ben Romero. The Johnson Bayou Prospecting Co., headed by Ferd Pavel, drilled the first wells but did not find oil, just gas. Production of oil was not actually started until 1935 when Burton, Magnolia, and Mobil started drilling.

The first equipment was brought in by wagons pulled by draft horses. A channel was dug so boats and barges could be used for moving equipment and for transportation in general.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons ran a boarding house for the roughnecks on Cameron Meadows.

Mobil Oil Co. built homes for oil production employees in 1945. Twelve houses, two rows of six homes each, and a generator for electricity made up the camp, which was soon widely known as "Fuzz Town." Named for the foreman, Sanders "Fuzz" Spearing, Fuzz Town stayed fully occupied but seldom with the same tenants. Almost as fast as a family moved in, another moved out, unable to adjust to living in the marsh with mosquitoes, snakes, alligators, and isolation.

The first residents of Fuzz Town were: Sanders Spearing, with two children; Richard McGuire, three children; Henry Daigle, five children; Fred McGuire and Tom Rige, one child each; Pierre Savoie, three children; Herman Longring, two children; Nute Warren, one child; Hub Bell, four children; Murl Dodd, one child; and Eddie Chesson.

In July and August 1945, when these first families moved in, the rent was $2.50 a month. Rent was later raised to $5 and in 1956, when all the houses were sold, rent had gone up to $15 a month.

In 1952, six of the houses were sold, and in 1956, the other six were sold. The last residents of Fuzz Town were: Pierre Savoie, James Collins, Mason Istre, John Reco, Bill Sumpter, and John Lambert.

This was the end of Fuzz Town, but not of company housing. As Mobil grew and production increased, a plant unit of automatic collecting and filtering systems for gas was constructed in 1950-51.

New company houses were built close to the plant for gas production employees. Four two-bedroom duplexes, two three-bedroom houses, and a community house made up the new camp.

Now, in 1970, after 25 years, comes the end of company housing for Mobil Oil Co. For some time, Mobil has been gradually "phasing out" the company houses. Johnson Bayou is the last housing area. July 1, 1970 marks the end of an era as these last houses are sold and moved from company property.

Much is already just memories handed down from one generation to the next concerning the great oil boom at Johnson Bayou, and another part now joins the "gone, but not forgotten" with the end of company housing.

RUIN: April 17 (A-47)

Citizens of Waterworks District #11:

We would like to take this opportunity to explain the increase in water rates, which are scheduled to go into effect on May 21, 2003.

Our current water system, which was originally designed for a maximum 700 water meters, has been in place for 20 years now. To the best of our knowledge, there were approximately 450 users (meters) in the beginning. In 1983, the Board of Commissioners voted on a rate of $10.00 for the first 9,000 gallons and $1.00 per 1,000 gallons over that amount. This information can be located in the original meeting minutes. There has never been a rate increase implemented since that time.

The original board and its engineers would never have dreamed that our community population would grow by 220%, therefore no future plans were implemented for impending community growth. Statistically, our community is the fastest growing community in Cameron Parish.

Our system has performed admirably over the years. However, it now needs some very costly upgrades in order to ensure that we meet both immediate and future demands for clean, safe drinking water in our community. These upgrades do not come without cost.

As I'm sure you are aware, the board has implemented a new water rate policy. This new policy was a result of several months of systems and accounting analysis. The entire board spent many hours over the span of many months surveying, reviewing and researching all options available. The Water Board went so far as to have a survey conducted by the Louisiana Rural Water Association (LRWA). In this survey, LRWA picked out several communities within the southwestern region of the state that were similar in total users (water meters) to ours. This survey was used as a model when our new pricing structure was designed. Interestingly enough, we found all of the communities in this survey had very similar pricing structures. The only major differences noted were in the base rate cost of 2,000 gallons.

The following are some interesting facts regarding our system and community:

Population	859	2,752	220% Increase
Production Cost/1,000 gal.	$1.10	$3.01	173% Increase
Meters	700*	1,297	85% Over Capacity

* The project engineer determined the original design capacity.

 The National Rural Water Association conducted a study in 2003 to determine average water production cost per 1,000 gallons.

We're sure many of you are asking, "Why implement such an increase from a base of $10.00 per 9,000 gallons to a base of $10.00 per 2,000 gallons?"

1. Water/aquifer conservation (mandated by the federal government)
2. Repairing, maintaining and upgrading an aging water system
3. Increased demand by the State and Federal governments for water districts to adhere to stringent standards, both old and new
4. Over the years, price increases were not implemented on an incremental basis to keep up with the rising economy and growing demand on the system due to the increase in population
5. Allow for a gradual build up in maintenance funds for future catastrophes
6. Planning for future growth
7. Potential water shortages during peak summer months. This is directly related to information collected on current usage, growth projections (new taps), waterline sizes and well capacities.

At the end of the day, the most important GOAL of the water board is to ensure an uninterrupted supply of clean, safe drinking water to the Citizens of Waterworks District #11. As an extension of this GOAL, it is incumbent on the water board to ensure that we plan for the future growth of our community.

In an effort to ensure that all Citizens of Waterworks District #11 are well informed on the impending rate increase the Board invites you to attend a Public Meeting at the Community Center on Friday, April 25, 2003 at 6:00 p.m. Please understand that this meeting will not be an open debate, but a meeting of information as well as questions and answers.

Sincerely,

Parish of Cameron, Waterworks District #11

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Mr. Mhire and Pilot readers, I am writing this because of a letter to the editor in the April 3rd edition of the Pilot. I thought another side of the story needed to be heard.

First of all Mr. Mhire, if you would have been at the November 2002 drainage board meeting, you would have been able to voice your opinion on expropriation and you would have all your facts right. But you were not there, knowing that there was a meeting and the agenda of the night.

You said our police juror and some angry residents have asked the board to expropriate your father's land. Well, I was the first to bring up the expropriating of his land because five years ago when your father was on the drainage board, these same angry residents were flooded from Hurricane Frances. There was a drainage board meeting back then, and when some residents asked for a washout in a levee to be plugged, your father (a drainage board member at the time) said he would not give right-of-way or let anyone cross his land to fix the washout. Never did he say he would give a right-of-way in that meeting.

You said before making motions and taking extreme measures, the board members and police jurors should have taken the time to tour the area in question. Well, some board members and some angry residents did. They also took pictures. The only levee that were under water were other levees inside the one in question (family pasture, etc.).

You wonder if our police juror understands how water drains other than her kitchen sink? That's not her job as a police juror. Her job, and I think she understands it pretty well, is to listen to the people of her district and help them in any way she can. I wonder if you know how it feels to lose some of your kids 4-H animals because of flood waters and to have 3 feet of water in your shop, barn, and outdoor kitchen for 2 and a half weeks, until you have to call the courthouse for a permit to build a levee around your property so you can pump water out.

You also asked that a compromise, in exchange for the right-of-way, you requested the board make repairs on another levee. To me it sounds like you said 'no' to a right-of-way, unless you get something you want in return, even though you were not flooded out. You stated that we need some changes, and you are right about this. The community of Grand Chenier needs to stand together and not go against each other, nor let others flood, just to get what you want.

So, Mr. Mhire, yes I approve of expropriation, because I would give the drainage board a right-of-way before I would let you, family members, or anyone else flood. And you're also right that there is only one who can control flooding. But when the drainage board expropriates your father's land and plugs the washout, they will prevent me from flooding a third time because of you and the washout.

MARISOL HERNANDEZ has been named the manager of the Help/Hope of Cameron store that sells used clothing and housewares to secure funds for the needy. (Photo by Cyndi Sellers.)

Hernandez is new manager at Help/Hope

Help/Hope of Cameron, Inc. has announced the appointment of Marisol Hernandez as new manager of the Help/Hope Thrift Store. The store, located at 401 Broussard Beach Road about 2 miles east of Cameron, sells donated clothing and housewares at nominal prices with the proceeds used to purchase food for the needy and to cover operational and maintenance expenses.

The store is open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8 to 10:30 a.m.

Donations of good used clothing, housewares, toys, etc. are always needed.

Current needs especially include ladies dresses and linens, according to Hernandez. Volunteers are also needed to sort and display incoming items and to maintain the building.

Help/Hope's main function is to provide assistance to those in temporary emergency situations. Food, clothing, housewares, or medicine have been provided to 31 local families and one transient in the past year, for a total of 101 individuals.

Funds to support his effort come from Thrift Store sales, donations from local churches, and offerings collected by the Cameron Ministerial Alliance at Fifth Sunday Singings, the Community Thanksgiving Service, and Easter Sunrise Service.

Divine Mercy Sunday

April 27, 2003

Dear Catholic Residents of South Cameron Parish:

No Easter message from me could be more noteworthy than the Feast of Divine Mercy! From Jesus' lips to Sister and now Saint Faustina, to our Holy Father, and now to Creole, Cameron, and Grand Chenier.

What must you do? Confess within nine days of Sunday, April 27th & receive Holy Communion at any of the weekend's Holy Masses, which is the Feast of Mercy.

What does this mean? "The soul that will go to confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sins and punishment...Let no soul fear to draw near to Me, even though its sins be as scarlet." (Saint Faustina)

Happy and Holy Easter!

Reverend Father Joseph McGrath

CAMERON OUTDOORS
Fishing is improving
 By LOSTON MCEVERS

FISHING REPORT
 It seems our weather is about to straighten out, as we get close to six inches of rain, that water's running out plus this last cold spell really let us know old man winter can still come around.

Bass fishing was great just before our last cold front, and now it's getting right again. Jimmy Trahan and I made a day of fishing last Friday, fishing the Big Burn, did real good. We sort of run around and stopped and fished a little, then kept trying different spots. We ended our day catching over 20 bass. We only kept 13 bass and released the rest. We did have a four pounder and two right at 3, but the bass were running mostly 12 to 14 inches. We both made the remark that these top five bass would be a great stringer for a team tournament.

There were anglers fishing for perch and white perch and they were also catching some nice ones.

We did see quite a bit of trash including ice bags on the canals, anglers please keep a trash bag take your trash home with you.

There's something else that's a real problem, the large bass boats with 175 hp and 200 hp motors. They come in the big canals in the Big Burn and also in the big canals in Amoco. It's dangerous in the curves and side canals leading to the main canals. What's way more dangerous is in the Big Burn, they were down the small mudboat trails, cutting across to get to other larger canals. We came around a 90 degree curve without slowing down. If a small outboard of 25 hp would have come around the curve at the same time, there would surely have been a bad accident.

I would like to warn anglers, slow down at curves and intersections as other boats could be coming, even anglers anchored fishing in a cut or point on the canal.

Saltwater reports are fair, I think the rainfall sort of slowed it down. I got my best reports that the Cameron and Grand Chenier Jetties were the best fishing this past weekend.

I've always heard stories about which winds are better to fish in. I realize it's hard to fish in strong winds, but this is my way of thinking, when fishing in west winds, it's the best, east winds the least, north winds big bass come forth and winds from the south, blows bait into their mouth, and no wind at all means a big haul. I think all bass anglers think alike, we know there is no bad time to go fishing, even if sky dust (rain) is falling.

FISH TAGGERS NEEDED

Last fall, it was announced that researchers were looking for fishermen that were willing to tag and release cobia and tripletail. The Mississippi Marine Sport Fish and Tag and Release Program has produced great results on Cobia so far, and they are hoping to do the same with tripletail. Both of these species are common in our northern Gulf of Mexico waters in the warmest months. Any Louisiana fisherman fishing our offshore waters are welcome to take part in this program. Anglers will receive a tagging kit and instructions. If you are interested call and ask for Read Hendon or Jim Franks at 228-872-4202.

BOATING PROJECTS

Nine projects in 6 states will receive more than $3.9 million from a Boating Infrastructure Grant (BIG) program of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The projects are to help improve docking facilities for transient non-trailerable boats at marinas, and will be supplemented by a total of $13 million from state, local and private partners. Louisiana is one of the six states to receive this competitive funding. There was 60 projects from 21 states requesting this funding.

Pipeline awareness meet set

The Pipeline Group's annual "Public Education - Contractor Awareness Program" will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Apr. 22, in the burton Memorial Coliseum at McNeese State University, in Lake Charles.

The program will be sponsored by a group of companies with a common goal of preventing accidents and damages to underground pipelines and utilities. A free dinner will be catered by Aunt Sue's Catering for all persons involved in excavation related activities in Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jefferson Davis parishes. Following the dinner, a brief safety program will be presented which stresses the importance of accident prevention by identifying pipeline and utility rights of way, use of one-call systems, and the importance of working with pipeline and utility companies to safely excavate in the vicinity of underground facilities. Sponsors will provide promotional materials; including notification information for their companies, safety related brochures and other safety reminders.

The FBI has been invited to make a brief presentation on the possibilities of terrorist attacks on pipelines and underground utilities; and answer questions regarding the role of our guests within the newly created Department of Homeland Security.
