Crain family honored by birder organization

By CYNDI SELLERS

The Louisiana Ornithological Society, at its Spring Meeting in Creole last Saturday, presented an award to a local family for their efforts to preserve and make accessible prime Cameron Parish birding habitat. Hilda Crain accepted the President's Award on behalf of the Butch Crain family.

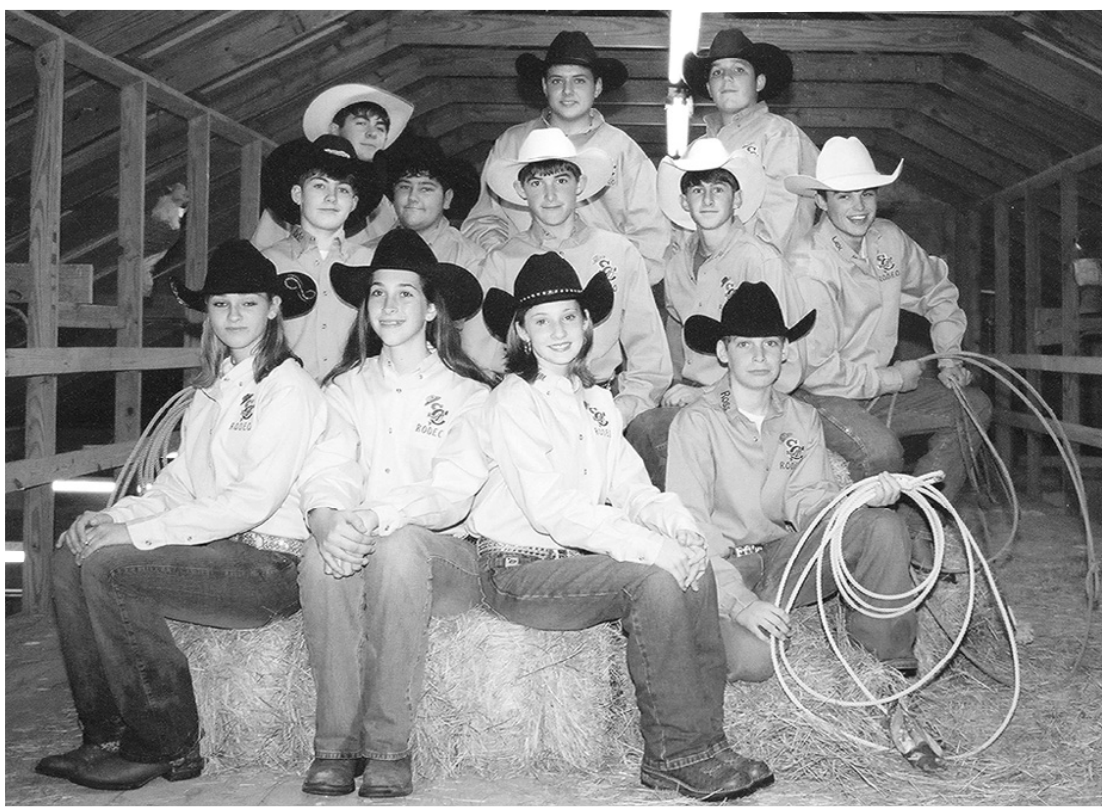

LOS spokesperson Marty Guidry presented the award, consisting of a plaque and a first edition copy of Dr. George H. Lowery's famous book, "Louisiana Birds", in honor of the family's efforts to build a road to the Sabine Pass Lighthouse, making the excellent bird habitat accessible for study. Past Cameron Parish recipients of the award have been Marianna Primeaux and Scott Henry.

Guidry explained to the 100 plus attendees that Cameron Parish is the largest land area parish in Louisiana, with a very small population. He called the parish "one of the best birding areas in the United States," with the annual Christmas Bird Count here usually ranking about 12th in the nation, out of about 1700 counts. Only California and Texas have counts ranking higher.

During each LOS meeting weekend, birders try to see and identify as many species of birds as possible in one day. The Cameron Parish meetings in the spring usually have the highest count. This year, 206 species were identified during an excellent birding day. The weak cold front which passed through the area on Friday night contributed to the opportunity to see 30 species of warblers in the coastal woods, including a rare Brewster's Hybrid warbler. Other rare, for Louisiana, birds seen were the Yellow Headed Blackbird, Black-billed Cuckoo, Western Tanager, and Swainson's Hawk.

The next LOS meeting in Cameron Parish will be the fall meeting held on the fourth weekend in October. Anyone interested in birds is welcome to attend the meetings, which always feature guest speakers. This spring's speakers presented slide shows on birding trips to New Zealand and Ecuador.

Pilot group supports Cheniere Energy plans

By JEREMY HARPER AMERICAN PRESS

The Lake Charles Pilots announced their support Tuesday of Cheniere Energy's liquefied natural gas terminal planned for a tract along the Calcasieu River Ship Channel in Cameron Parish.

The pilots would navigate the huge LNG tankers up the ship channel and dock them at the proposed Creole Trail terminal, which if approved would be the third LNG terminal allowed to use the ship channel.

Pilots director Mike Miller said his group worked with Cheniere to design computer simulations of the flow of LNG tankers up and down the channel.

The pilots rejected the first site Cheniere proposed for the terminal due to "severe traffic congestion," Miller said, adding that the pilots are satisfied with the current proposed location.

"With the proper-size tractor tugs permanent to the project, the Lake Charles pilots feel that the Creole Trail project will be a safe and efficient facility," Miller said at a Tuesday public meeting hosted by federal energy regulators to gather comments on the project.

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the federal agency that approves all onshore LNG facilities, held the meeting as part of its process for preparing an environmental impact statement on the terminal.

The meeting is part of the pre-filing process mandated by the National Environmental Policy Act.

Cheniere has yet to file its application for the Creole Trail terminal with FERC, but it's expected to do so within the next two weeks.

The environmental impact statement will then take 8-12 months to complete, FERC officials said.

Keith Meyer, the president of Cheniere's LNG unit, has said the company expects FERC to approve the Creole Trail project by early 2006 because the design is nearly identical to the Sabine Pass terminal already cleared by FERC and in the early stages of construction.

The Creole Trail terminal will stand on about 300 acres of land along the Calcasieu River Ship Channel in Cameron Parish. Cheniere owns a total tract of 1,400 acres.

"These plants are very safe, but they're very large. And a lot of people don't like to live too close to a very large facility, so we looked for a very large site that provides a very large buffer zone," Meyer said.

It must first be approved by FERC. The entire permitting process is expected to take 12-18 months, with operations expected to begin in 2009.

The proposed Creole Trail Pipeline will be used to distribute the LNG to the nation once it is delivered by ship and reverted back to a gas.

The pipeline will originate at the terminal and extend about 118 miles northeast through Cameron, Calcasieu, Beauregard, Allen, Jeff Davis and Acadia parishes. It will end near Rayne.

Cheniere officials said they originally planned to run the pipeline west of the Calcasieu River Ship Channel, but the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service nixed the route because it crossed over a small part of a wildlife refuge.

The company now plans to run the pipeline through the middle of Calcasieu Lake, though Cheniere officials said the route could still be changed.

About 15 miles of pipeline would be buried four feet under the lake bed, the company said. It would take about four months to complete the job, the company said.

McCalls hold family reunion in Grand Chenier April 16

The first McCall family reunion since 1977 was held April 16, at the Grand Chenier American Legion Hall. Over 218 descendants of Dr. Milledge McCall, the first settler of Eastern Cameron Parish, were in attendance. The families of seven of the twelve children of Milledge and Sarah Martin McCall were represented and the surnames read like a "Who's Who" of pioneer Cameron Parish families, Doland, Dooxey, Miller, Jones, Welch and Sweeney among others. Families traveled from fourteen different states and from as far away as New York City, Denver, Sacramento, Chicago, Indianapolis and Boston.

Attendees were treated to a PowerPoint presentation tracing the genealogy of the "Grand Chenier McCall's." The presentation covered the migration from Scotland to Ireland and eventually to the United States. Also discussed were the family's contribution to the American Revolution, the migration to Louisiana, Avery Island and finally to Grand Chenier. Dr. Beverly Ricks, a retired department head of the University of Louisiana at Monroe spoke and answered questions on his genealogy research. A panel composed of Sonny McCall, Virgie McCall LeBleu, Shirley Dunham and Geneva Griffith spoke to the crowd on topics ranging from life in early Grand Chenier, Hurricane Audrey, the establishment of the Cameron Parish School System and other McCall related contributions to the betterment of Cameron Parish.

The oldest family member in attendance was Mrs. Frankie McCall Sarver Davis, 95. The William Robert "Tobe" McCall line had the most family members in attendance and included descendants of Raymond Milledge McCall, Beulah McCall Lovell, Georgia McCall Miller, Henry Albert McCall, Ollie McCall Comer, Hazel McCall Vincent, Fannie McCall Ricks and Carroll Hiram McCall. A catered meal was served and prizes of Alligator necklaces and knife sheaths, donated by Bennie Welch, were awarded.

Tentative plans are to hold this event every two years.

COLD FRONT

Anglers had quite an awakening this past weekend, as we got an unexpected cold front that came in Saturday night, cooling temperatures down in the 40's for Sunday morning, plus a high pressure to go along with it.

The weather before this front was beautiful, nice for fishing and other outdoor activities, but still we have nice weather, except for cooler mornings.

Redfish are in the Mermentau River in Grand Chenier, some really nice, as well as along the beach and Cameron Jetties, where some "Big Reds" have been taken.

Redfish and speckle trout are hitting on Rockefeller Refuge. Lots of reds running 18 to 22 inches, to me the best size to eat.

Trouts are being taken on Big Lake, but lots of muddy water from the north winds made waters rough and muddy, but where you found clear water, you'd find specks and reds mixed.

GIBBSTOWN DOGFIGHT

The second week of the Gibbstown Dogfight again saw the "Big Burn" take the winning stringer. This weeks largest bass was caught by John Stitzlein, in the Big Burn on a fluke. Second place largest bass was caught by the team of Byron Thigpin and Jesse Moss. Largest bass 4.31 pounds and second 3.64 pounds.

The top three teams, of the 19 teams fishing all had three bass each. First place went to John Stitzlein and Scooter Duff, weighing in at 6.97 pounds. Second place team went to Ben Fontenot and Ken Fournierat weighing in at 6.04 pounds and third place team was Tom Hess and Richard Duhon, going 5.49 pounds.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The Lemesche Bass Club held their second club tournament of the year last Sunday, fishing out of Rockefeller Refuge. Dressed in winter attire, the 30 plus minute boat ride made you know it was winter temperatures. It was still a nice day of fishing even though cold temperatures to start, full moon and high pressure, the evening warmed up to the 70's.

Scooter Trosclair and Tom Hess had first place stringer 9.56 (5 bass) and the largest bass of 3.04. Second place went to Ricky Canik and George Melancon, 8 pounds and second largest bass 2.02.

Third place went to Loston McEvers and Carl Broussard with 6.62 pounds, fourth Trey Wilkerson and Todd Morales 5.74, fifth Matthew Griffith and Chance Doxey 5.14 and Richard Duhon and Johnny LeDoux 6th with 4.76. (4 bass), third largest bass Matthew and Chance, 1.74, fourth Richard and Johnny and fifth Carl and Loston.

NEWS BRIEFS

In mid-March, the U. S. House of Representatives passed the so called Highway Bill, the huge transportation funding bill that incorporates money for key fishing and hunting related programs.

The Senate is expected to take action on this legislation this month. The most important to anglers is a provision that will capture the full 18.3 cents per gallon tax on motorboat fuel. The additional fuel tax money would increase funding to the federally run Sport Fish Restoration Program by an estimated $100 million annually.

NAME YOUR BOAT

Lots of boats have names, especially the larger ones. The most popular boat names in order are: Aqua-holic, Island Times, Hakuna Matata, Happy Hours, Fish Tales, Liberty, Seas the Day, Freedman, Ohana and Summer Winds.

Liberty and Freedom came in strongly as boat names after 9-11, and still ranks in the top ten. Lifted from "The Lion King", the Swahili "Hakuna Matata", but the most popular Aqua-holic and Happy Hour still associate boating with drinking.

The Lake Charles CCA banquet will be held on Thursday, May 5 at the Burton Coliseum in Lake Charles starting at 5:30 p.m.

The Bass Anglers Sportsmen Society (BASS), was born in Montgomery, Ala. 37 years ago, when Ray Scott had the idea to organize America's bass anglers to promote fishing and to protect the national fishing resources. BASS quickly grew into the world's largest fishing organization and bass fishing became a cultural and multi-billion dollar industry.

BASS is now relocating to Celebration, Fla., near Orlando. These will be high profile fishing events in the Orlando area. There is also some of the best fishing lakes in that central Florida area and Florida is the number one fishing destination in the United States. Attracting more than one million non-resident anglers every year more than two-thirds are there to chase bass. So the "Sunshine State" captures another one!

SPRING DANGER

Just a friendly reminder that spring is here and anglers need to be careful of two reptiles. Yes, alligators are out, hungry and not scared of you. Going in narrow trails and gators sunning on the banks, is a good way to have one in the boat with you.

Take it from me and my son Rudy, you don't want one in the boat with you. Another thing, snakes are out in the sun also. Watch when going down trails, under tree limbs and your boat drifting against the bank.

This happened to me Sunday, the boat against the bank, my feet on the edge of the boat, when I stood up there was the moccasin about

Baseball

St. Edmund 15, South Cameron 0 - Marcus Mudd, Thomas Trosclair, Kyle Little, and Jonathan Trahan pitched for the Tarpons. Andre Savoie and Ruston Smith had a base hit each for South Cameron.

Hackberry 18, Johnson Bayou 1 - Jay Sanner, Travis Spicer, and Drew East combined the pitching efforts for a no-hitter. Wesley Roberts, Keith Badon, and Ashton Boudreaux pitched for the Rebels.

Top hitters for the Mustangs were Sanner, 2 - 3 and 1 RBI; Spicer, 1 - 4 and 3 RBIs; and Dillian Thibodeaux, 1 - 4 and 2 RBIs. Starks 6, Johnson Bayou 5 - Ashton Boudreaux went the distance for the Rebels. Top hitters were Ethan Erbeling, 2 - 4 and 1 RBI; Keith Badon, 3 - 4 and 1 RBI; and Gene McKinney, 3 - 4 and 1 RBI.

Hackberry 14, Singer 1 - Nick Moore threw a two hitter as the Mustangs claimed the district 7C championship. The Mustangs scored 13 runs in the fourth inning. Top hitters were Jay Sanner, 2 - 3 and 5 RBIs; Moore, 1 - 3; and Lance Pearson, 1 - 2 and 2 RBIs.

By CYNDI SELLERS

A group of Grand Lake High School students has found a new after school hangout, and it's one their parents can't complain about.

Ten to twelve teens regularly spend their afternoons at the Grand Lake Branch Library, and think it's a really "cool" place to be. "They have to turn out the lights on us," said Donovan Sullivan. Amanda Stout said the library gives her something to do after school. She especially likes being able to use the computers. Jules Quick likes the computers, too, and the quiet atmosphere which he said is good for doing homework.

Jordan Poole likes the book selection; he's into fantasy books and sports magazines, especially fishing. Right now he's reading a Japanese anime inspired series called "Broken Sky."

Tasha Fontenot and several others all enjoy the Lemony Snicket series, recently made into a movie starring Jim Carey, while Alyssa Fontenot looks for new recipes in the cookbook section. Sullivan hasn't found anything as good as the "Eregion" book he recently read, but he's still looking. Katie McFarlain likes everything. She says the selection is good.

All the students appreciate being able to get books needed for school at the library. The Accelerated Reader program lets them read books from a list and take a test on it for extra credit.

Library manager Kim Poole says the staff is trying to keep the most current titles in stock, such as the Margaret Patterson Haddix series "Among the Hidden," "Among the Imposters," etc. The Bartimaeus Trilogy and the Pendragon series, Meg Cabot's "Princess" books, and Ann Brashares "The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants" series are also popular, as is the "Left Behind" series.

Rapidly becoming the young adult specialist for the library system, she also helps eighth grade students with their genealogy project research.

All the teens plan to spend a lot of time at the library during the summer. They like their semi-private "Young Adult Corner" near the video section, the convenient computers, the quiet, well decorated atmosphere, and the comfort of knowing everyone there.

Vandalism arrest made at Rutherford Beach

By CYNDI SELLERS

Thanks to a tip from an alert citizen, an arrest was made last week in the continuing vandalism problem at Rutherford Beach.

Thomas Morgan, 56, of 611 Pine St., Deming, N.M., was charged with simple criminal property damage last Thursday, April 21.

Morgan had been camping near the picnic area and was reportedly breaking up the cable spool tables to use for firewood. The activity was spotted by a local resident who called the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Office, which responded and made the arrest.

A Beachfront Development District #2 spokesperson said the board is happy to finally have an arrest in the ongoing vandalism problem and is grateful to the citizen who reported the incident.

The board hopes everyone who uses the beach will keep an eye out for vandals, since the amenities at the beach really belong to all the people, and anyone who steals or destroys them is hurting everyone, they said.

The board, composed of Mac Haynie, Cyndi Sellers,

Bobbie Primeaux, Brenda Boudreaux, and Joann Nunez, would like to hear any ideas the public has regarding improvements and security at Rutherford Beach. The board meets on the third Monday of each month at the Creole Multi-purpose building, at 5 p.m.

MEXICO, LOUISIANA, AND TEXAS

Name of applicant: PEARL CROSSING LNG TERMINAL LLC and PEARL CROSSING PIPELINE LLC, Post Office Box 4876, Houston, Texas 77210-4876.

Location of work: Within the LA Quinta Channel and adjacent graving dock (fabrication yard) near Ingleside, Texas in SAN PATRICO COUNTY; in the Gulf of Mexico, block 220, West Cameron area, about 41 miles off the Louisiana Coast; and within a 53 mile long pipeline corridor in offshore waters beginning at block 220 and thence proceeding in a northwesterly route traversing the Calcasieu Pass Safety Fairway, Sabine Pass (Aransas) to Calcasieu Pass Safety Fairway and Sabine Pass Anchorage Area, coming on shore and tying into a proposed meter station at Johnsons Bayou, Louisiana, in CAMERON PARISH, thence proceeding along a westerly route paralleling chenier ridges up to Sabine Lake, thence northward through Sabine Lake, a portion of the Sabine River, over emergent and forested landscapes and across the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and other channels and tributaries ending at a new meter station and pipeline interconnection located at Starks, Louisiana in CALCASIEU PARISH for an onshore distance of 64 miles, as shown on the attached drawings.

Character of work: Dredge and remove 2,014,000 cubic yards of earthen material, as necessary, to construct a graving dock facility which would be utilized to fabricate a concrete gravity-based structure and to provide appropriate navigation depths in the LaQuinta Channel for launching, transporting and deploying the structure. Excavated material will be placed within local disposal sites, as shown on the site location map. The 590 feet long by 289 feet wide concrete-based structure, capable of berthing two carriers, would be installed on the sea floor in block 220, West Cameron area, approximately 41 miles off the Louisiana Coast in the Gulf of Mexico and would serve as a liquefied natural gas docking/unloading terminal with receiving, storage and regasification capabilities via the open-rack vaporization method. Approximately 1,114,593 cubic yards of waterbottom sediments would be excavated and temporarily stockpiled as required to install two parallel 42-inch pipelines in the Gulf of Mexico beginning at the proposed docking terminal and extending northwesterly for a distance of approximately 53 miles tying into a proposed meter station situated within the coastal community of Johnson Bayou, Louisiana. Approximately 2,100,800 cubic yards of native material would be displaced through clearing of construction and permanent rights-of-ways, grading, trenching and backfilling operations and dredging of flotation canal, as well as the deposition of 397,800 cubic yards of onsite excavation in addition to 66,304 cubic yards of hauled-in clay and 223,253 cubic yards of stone or gravel, all required to install approximately 64 miles of a single 42-inch pipeline, five meter stations, ten pipeline interconnections and access roadways. The pipeline would exit the Johnson Bayou meter station thence proceed in a westerly direction to Sabine Lake thence continuing in a northerly route tying into a proposed meter station and pipeline interconnection located at Starks, Louisiana in Calcasieu Parish. In the Gulf of Mexico, pipelines would be buried 3 feet below the waterbottom and not less than 10 feet where the pipeline crosses navigation fairways and 17 feet in anchorage areas. Pipelines onshore would be buried 3 feet below the ground surface, 5 feet below the waterbottom in Sabine Lake and 20 feet below the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway. Horizontal directional drilling is proposed to be utilized to install pipelines at gulf and lake shoreline crossings as well as most navigable waterways. All work as previously described is required to fabricate, install, operate and maintain facilities and equipment as necessary to receive, process and transport liquid natural gas resources which is critical in meeting the nations' near future energy demands.

Calcasieu Parish, told the committee the system is working well.

Cameron, Jeff Davis and Vernon are among 18 parishes that will be required under proposed legislation to join the other 46 parishes that post property tax assessments on the Louisiana Tax Commission's Web site.

Senate Bill 316 by Sen. Willie Mount, D-Lake Charles, was sent to the Senate floor Tuesday by the Senate Committee on Revenue and Fiscal Affairs.

Mount is committee chairman and is sponsoring the legislation for Gov. Kathleen Blanco's administration.

Elizabeth Guglielmo, chairman of the tax commission, spoke on behalf of the legislation.

She said last year's law required parishes with a population of 75,000 or more to begin posting their assessments on the Internet.

Richard Cole, assessor for Calcasieu Parish, told the committee the system is working well.

He said the Web site is getting a lot of hits and that people appear to be satisfied with the results.

A major change in the process is also included in Mount's bill. It would add the property owner's name to the Web site listing.

Only the property addresses were required last year, and Guglielmo said after the meeting that made tracking the information difficult.

There is still an opt-out provision in the event any of those 18 parishes have a difficult problem complying. But Guglielmo said she had contacted most of the 18 assessors involved and that they see no problems with the legislation.

She said Cameron had some technical glitches, but hoped to have those worked out.
