In Memory of September 11, 2001

The Walk

I walk alone and hear children playing in the distance.
 As I sit, I can feel the sun warming my back.
 The air is a little cool, but just right.
 I take in a deep breath and smell the crisp cool air.
 I hear water trickling down a fountain.
 I see two bees buzzing busily, collecting nectar from the beautiful pink flowers near me.
 They do not bother me because I do not bother them.
 I walk somemore and I smell food cooking.
 The trees shade me from the sun as I walk.
 I lay down in the grassy field and as I scribble down notes,
 I notice a small lady bug crawling across my paper.
 I hear a man mowing a lawn.
 I pick up a leaf which is brown, but still beautiful.
 I turn on my back and look at the clouds take formation into clowns, bears, pirate ships, and more; and...
I thank God for this beautiful earth.

Involvement is the key!

"A Year Like No Other."
At GLHS many changes and memories have been made. Our staff tried to make this not only a yearbook but a scrapbook. I hope our staff has captured special moments that you may all cherish in the future.

While Santa and Mrs. Claus were in Grand Lake, they stopped by our school to take a few pictures with the good and maybe not so good little boys and girls.

After a long day of taking pictures of class favorites at Millennium Park, staff members pose for their own picture perfect snap-shot.

HORATIO ALGER SEMINAR AND CAREER DAY 2002

For more than a half-century, the Horatio Alger Association has paid tribute to the simple but commanding values and beliefs of dedication, purpose, and perseverance by recognizing the lives of Americans who not only exemplify this heritage but are committed to sharing a message of hope and encouragement with young people. Through this tradition, members help young people to understand and value the opportunities presented by America's free enterprise system. They are committed to assisting with the creation of such opportunities for young Americans. Members are the pillars of industry; they are our government leaders and our champions of sports and entertainment; they are innovators and entrepreneurs; and they are healers, teachers, artists, and writers. Yet, for all the countless contributions made to their respective fields, their common legacy is an abiding commitment to serve others. Men and women from all backgrounds, races, and creeds comprise the membership of the Association.

Horatio Alger Scholarship Recipients

Tiffany Breaux - $1,000

Candace Ogea - $1,000

Nicholas LeBoeuf - $7,500

Dana Palozotto - $10,000

Many are responsible for the inventions, industries, and inspirations that have directly touched, altered, and improved the lives of millions. They are Americans whose lives have been characterized by great success and remarkable achievements. The Horatio Alger Association of Distinguished Americans has a long-standing history of helping young people from across the nation triumph over adversity. As one of the nation's largest college financial aid programs in the country, the Association annually awards more than $4 million in college scholarships. The Association's Scholarship Program is the only major scholarship effort that specifically assists high school students who have faced and overcome great obstacles in their lives.

The 2001-2002 Lady Hornets basketball team completed a successful campaign that brought the highest win total (14), District standing (2nd), and play off qualifying (bi-district) in 6 years.

The Lady Hornets maximized their talent both on and off the court: Natalie Precht (1st team All-District, Composite 1st Team All-State); Tiffany Breaux (2nd team All-District, Class B Honorable Mention All-State); and Maggie Garven (2nd team All-District)

Basketball

Sports

2001-2002 Hornets Basketball

The Hornets' basketball team began the season returning one experienced starter from last year, point guard Marcus LeBoeuf. Marcus was captain of a group of starters that included Trevor Hebert at two guard; Barry Reed at post; Jay Bergeron at power forward; and Charles Hunter at small forward. The players that came off the bench and played often included experienced seniors: post Justin LaBove; forward Todd Taylor; and post Brett Bergeron. Other key players coming off the bench included Justin Billiot, Marcus Nugent, and Ronald Courville.

"This was definitely the best team chemistry we have had here in many years. We won sixteen games because of our unselfishness and our willingness to support each player, no matter what the circumstances. Even though we finished third place in the district and did not qualify for a wildcard, we felt that we played our best for most of the year."

Cheerleading Sports

2001-2002 Cheerleaders

The 2001-2002 cheerleaders attended a four-day SCA (Southwestern Cheerleader Association) summer camp at McNeese. They earned many blue superior ribbons for their outstanding performances. They also received numerous spirit sticks for their great enthusiasm. Captain Crystal Ewing and Co-captain Tori Brittain were nominated to try out for the All-American Team. The cheerleaders worked hard to achieve their goals and kept the crowd involved. The squad's sponsors included Cheri Myers, Cottie Mouton, and Kim Trahan.

Remember when...

*We had singing contests in the car.
The camping tent fell on top of us.*

*The snake came crawling between us while we played pitch and catch.
You jumped on the furniture because of the mouse in the house.*

We went shopping in Katy.

*I took pictures of you at the school bus for first and second grade.
I would help you with your homework and you asked me the questions.*

We laughed and laughed at the drive thru of Dairy Queen.

You got lost coming off the elevator at St. Patrick's Hospital.

You played T-ball with Natalie Precht at Henry Height's.

You wrote those long lists to Santa.

You sang on the tape, "Is everybody weedy?"

Your softball team won district.

You flew in an airplane with your dad to Uncle Glen's house.

You and your dad went to the Astros game.

You had all those softball trips riding with Mr. Charles and Ms. Donna.

You spent the night at Natalie Poole's.

You had your first dance with Travis Hebert.

Your daddy would say, "It's whatever T. wants."

Molly Precht hollered, "Swing level and run like the devil!"

You would say, "Goodnight T. - Goodnight Mama - I love you - I Wuv you, too."

So many memories and so much more to come. I can hardly wait!!!

TIFFANY BREAUX, I AM VERY PROUD OF YOU!

No words can begin to express what the heart feels. From birth to graduation, no matter what the world decided to throw at you, you overcame with triumph and perseverance. Life will continue to send tribulation, but it will not be anything that you cannot handle. You've proven to be a worthy opponent to difficult times.

Your love is shown by your choices. You tend to put family needs over personal wants. You choose to be respectable and responsible. You provide for yourself through your hard work.

Joseph,

It seems like just yesterday we brought you home from the hospital. Where have the years gone? We have many cherished memories of your childhood. As that chapter of your life has closed and the chapter of your adulthood is upon you, we would like you to know that we are very proud of the young man you have become. Always know that we will continue to be here for you and pray for God's continued protection on you and His guidance in whatever you do in life.

We Love You!

Joseph,

It only seems like yesterday you were born. I thought you were the greatest little person because you made me the greatest big sister. Growing up, we had our share of fights & arguments, but what brother & sister doesn't? Now we are all grown up with lives of our own, but very close, always watching to make sure the other is okay. Always remember, I will always be here for you, always watching out for you, always loving you, for I will always be your big sister.

I

best of luck in the future.

Much like Dec. 7, 1941 (the attack on Pearl Harbor), Sept. 11, 2001 also became "a day that will live in infamy."

At 8:48 a.m., a hijacked American Airlines commercial jetliner crashes into one of New York City's World Trade Center towers. At 9:05, a second plane crashes into the second tower.

As people try to evacuate, the impact and heat from the crash cause the first tower to tumble to the ground in enormous clouds of smoke and debris. The second tower collapses shortly thereafter, leaving nothing but ash, rubble and destruction for miles where one of our nation's greatest landmarks once stood.

▲ At 9:40 a.m., a third hijacked plane flies into the Pentagon, and within the hour, a fourth crashes near a wooded area in western Pennsylvania. More than 4,200 lives are lost in total.

▲ The hijackings are part of an intended multitude of terrorist attacks on America headed by Islamic radical and wanted terrorist leader Osama bin Laden and his al Qaeda terrorist network. Bin Laden had been making open threats against America for several years, demanding the U.S. withdraw from the Middle East.

In an address to the nation, President George W. Bush ▲ demands Afghanistan's ruling party (the Taliban) hand over bin Laden. The Taliban attempts to negotiate the United States' demand, saying they will not cooperate without evidence of bin Laden's involvement in the attacks. Bush states the demand is non-negotiable, and the U.S. will take retaliatory action against Afghanistan if they refuse to hand bin Laden over.

Airlines around the world suffer major setbacks, many declaring bankruptcy. Congress approves an airline assistance package that includes $15 billion in financial aid and a victim's compensation fund to limit expensive lawsuits that might bankrupt airlines like American and United.

▲ Former Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge is appointed by President Bush to head the newly created Office of Homeland Security Cabinet post, which involves coordinating and creating a strategic plan for homeland defense against future terrorist attacks.

"And tonight, the United States makes the following demands on the Taliban...These demands are not open to negotiation or discussion...This is the world's fight...the fight of all who believe in progress...tolerance, and freedom...We will rally the world to this cause by our efforts, our courage. We will not tire, we will not falter, and we will not fail."

President Bush announces plans to starve terrorist groups of all money, and signs an order to freeze all U.S. assets of suspected terrorists, ordering financial institutions do the same.

▲ After repeated refusals from the Taliban to turn over bin Laden, the U.S. and allied British forces begin launching air strikes on Afghan cities, military targets and terrorist camps.

▲ The U.S. continues bombing Afghan cities, while at the same time dropping food packages, called Humanitarian Daily Rations (or HDRs), from planes to help Afghan refugees at risk for starvation.

The World Health Organization warns Western governments to be on the alert for attacks using chemical and biological warfare.

▲ A 63-year-old employee at the American Media building in Florida dies from inhalation anthrax, a potential agent for use in biological warfare. Several other American Media employees also test positive for anthrax.

▲ The discovery of letters containing anthrax in several states other than Florida (including D.C., N.J., N.Y., Ind., Mo., and Va.) raises the fear of bioterrorism. Traces of anthrax turn up in postal facilities around the country, and two Washington, D.C. postal workers die from the inhalation variety of the bacteria. Authorities are unable to pinpoint the letters' source, and are unsure whether they are connected to the al Qaeda terrorist attacks.

President Bush signs an anti-terrorism bill into law, giving police and intelligence agencies new powers against terrorism, including stronger penalties for harboring or financing terrorists, an increase in the number of crimes considered terrorist acts and tougher punishments for committing them. The bill also gives police new rights to secretly search people's homes and business records and to eavesdrop on suspect telephone or computer conversations.

◀ Osama bin Laden is the leader of al Qaeda, a worldwide network of terrorists, and is America's most wanted terrorist suspect. Born in Saudi Arabia to a wealthy Yemeni family, bin Laden became an Islamic fundamentalist and turned against Saudi Arabia and the U.S. after working with the Afghan resistance against the former Soviet Union in 1979.

◀ Mullah Mohammed Omar was the supreme leader of Afghanistan's ruling Taliban. Rarely ever photographed, Omar fought beside bin Laden in Afghan resistance to Soviet occupation. He created the Taliban in the early 1990s to put an end to the chaos in Afghanistan and transformed it into what he envisioned as the purest Islamic state in the world.

Former Afghanistan President Burhanuddin Rabbani was recognized by most world governments as the country's legitimate ruler, even during the Taliban's reign. A former professor of Islamic law at Kabul University, he was forced out of power in 1996 by the Taliban, and has since led the anti-Taliban Northern Alliance.

The Bush Administration faces accusations from many that the array of new tactics implemented with the anti-terrorism bill, including military tribunals (trials held in secret in which the judges are military officers, a two-thirds vote is enough to convict, and there is no need for proof beyond a reasonable doubt), are the worst infringement on civil liberties in decades.

▲ About 1,000 U.S. Marines move into Afghanistan to tighten the squeeze on remaining Taliban and al Qaeda leaders by limiting their movements from Kandahar, Afghanistan's second largest city and center of trade.

The Taliban surrenders the city of Kandahar, their last major stronghold. The city falls to looters after the last Taliban fighters flee the area.

▲ An American is discovered among Taliban prisoners after a violent prison revolt that killed hundreds of the prisoners as well as an American CIA officer. John Walker Lindh, a 20-year-old non-Afghan Taliban fighter (originally from California), said he joined the Taliban six months earlier after converting to Islam and "jihadi" (fighter of holy wars). Walker is returned to the U.S. to face four criminal charges, including conspiracy to kill Americans abroad. Prosecutors consider other evidence that could carry the death penalty.

▲ Hamid Karzai is named the Prime Minister of Afghanistan's interim government. The title is passed to him by former Afghanistan president, Mullah Mohammed Omar, marking the first peaceful transfer of power in Afghanistan in more than two decades.

▲ A videotape is acquired by the Pentagon, showing Osama bin Laden boasting of his involvement in the Sept. 11 attacks, and rejoicing in the level of devastation "achieved" by the terrorists aboard the planes, some of whom did not even know what kind of mission they were on until they boarded the planes.

British citizen Richard Reid boards trans-Atlantic American Airlines Flight 63, and attempts to light explosives hidden in his shoes. He is subdued immediately by passengers and crew members, and sedated. The plane diverts to Boston, where Reid is arrested. He is later charged on nine counts, and it is discovered he received training in al Qaeda terrorist camps.

▲ The U.S. military sends al Qaeda prisoners to a prison in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The detainees are questioned for information pertaining to the Sept. 11 attacks, the whereabouts of bin Laden and other attacks that may have been planned.

As the war on terrorism continues, the U.S. rallies the support of the international community. Taking the intelligence gained from prisoners as well as investigations at home, America turns attention to other terrorist havens around the world, such as Abu Sayyaf, a terrorist group in the Philippines allegedly connected with the al Qaeda network. ■

Groups

International Front for Fighting Jews and Crusades
This is a large coalition of groups dedicated to killing Americans and destroying U.S. interests worldwide. It was formed by Osama bin Laden in 1998, and includes al Qaeda (also founded by bin Laden), a network of small terrorist cells operating independently around the world, dedicated to overthrowing Middle Eastern rulers and removing westerners from Muslim countries.

The International Front is partnered with the Egyptian Islamic Jihad, or "Al Jihad." This group was established in the 1970s with the aim of overthrowing the Egyptian government and setting up an Islamic state. The group's leadership is divided between those who favor violent means and those who favor more peaceful means, particularly against U.S. targets.

Northern Alliance

The Northern Alliance is an Afghanistan rebel faction that has actively opposed the Taliban for five years. Prior to the fall of the Taliban, the Northern Alliance claimed five percent of Afghanistan, while the Taliban controlled the other 95 percent.

Abu Sayyaf

Abu Sayyaf is a smaller Islamist group fighting to establish an Iranian-style Islamic state in Mindanao, an island in the southern Philippines. The group, whose name means, "Bearer of the Sword," has ties to a number of Islamic fundamentalist organizations around the world, including Osama bin Laden's al Qaeda and Ramzi Yousef, an individual convicted of organizing the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center in New York City. Abu Sayyaf has a membership of approximately several hundred young Islamic radicals, many of whom were recruited from universities and high schools.

I.S.A.F. (Internal Security Assistance Force)

Also called the "peacekeepers," the I.S.A.F. was developed after the collapse of the Taliban to help keep peace in Afghanistan during the interim government's establishment. The peacekeepers consist of British Royal Marines as well as troops sent in by France.
