BEAUTY BY JT Mrs. Miller's 5th Grade

Beauty is one thing everyone has. If you think a girl has beauty and intelligent, that could be a nice girl. Some people think that beauty is only for girls. That's not true. People need a sense of humor, intelligence, imagination and beauty. Without them you are nothing.

Graduation Time

Ode to Parents

Congratulations, moms and dads,
You lived through twelve long years.
Each one a story you'll recall
With laughter and with tears.

You're graduating, moms and dads.
It really is the truth.
Through some report cards, some six weeks,
Were somewhat doubtful proof.

Some of you were scared at first;
And some of you just cried
When walking in that first big day,
Small brave ones by your sides.

You didn't know, you couldn't guess
'Bout sons and daughters then.
But proud, as parents often are,
You dreamed on with a grin.

Of college, law school . . . where's the end?
Perhaps the White House lawn?
Yet, mothers, fathers, you knew then
Of headaches 'fore that dawn.

Grade one was fun, adjusting time,
And so were two and three
With Dick and Jane and Spot and Puff . . .
Block printing a to z.

Yes, mom and dad, you read and wrote,
So, easy were these years.
Then, four through six proved much more tough . . .
New math caused many fears.

Now the numbers weren't so different.
They still looked all the same.
But rules and reasons quite brand new
Can soon make one insane.

Still, you lived through, brave moms and dads
Grey Hair no problem yet.
But bones cracked, the mumps, the flu
And measles caused some fret.

Promotion from grades one through six . . .
Young girls soon chased the boys.
The boys then chased them back again,
'Twas time to pack their toys.

Now there were games of basketball.
Late slumber parties, too.
Long hours on the telephone . . .
Your home seemed like a zoo.

Complexion problems, ugly hair,
Too tall, too short, too small . . .
Your teen had worries, moms and dads;
You heard and lived them all.

High school was quick in coming 'round.
Four years seemed more like ten . . .
Before you lived them . . . when you had
You thought it was two times ten.

Through drivers' training, this new world
Made clear its pace all right.
Your sons and daughters growing up,
"Can I have the car tonight?"

Romance progressed, as did their minds,
These sweet and gentle souls,
You once rocked in your arms at night
To shield them from the cold.

Big dates were now the usual fare,
Homecoming and big dances.
You sweated every late-night hour;
You feared their taking chances.

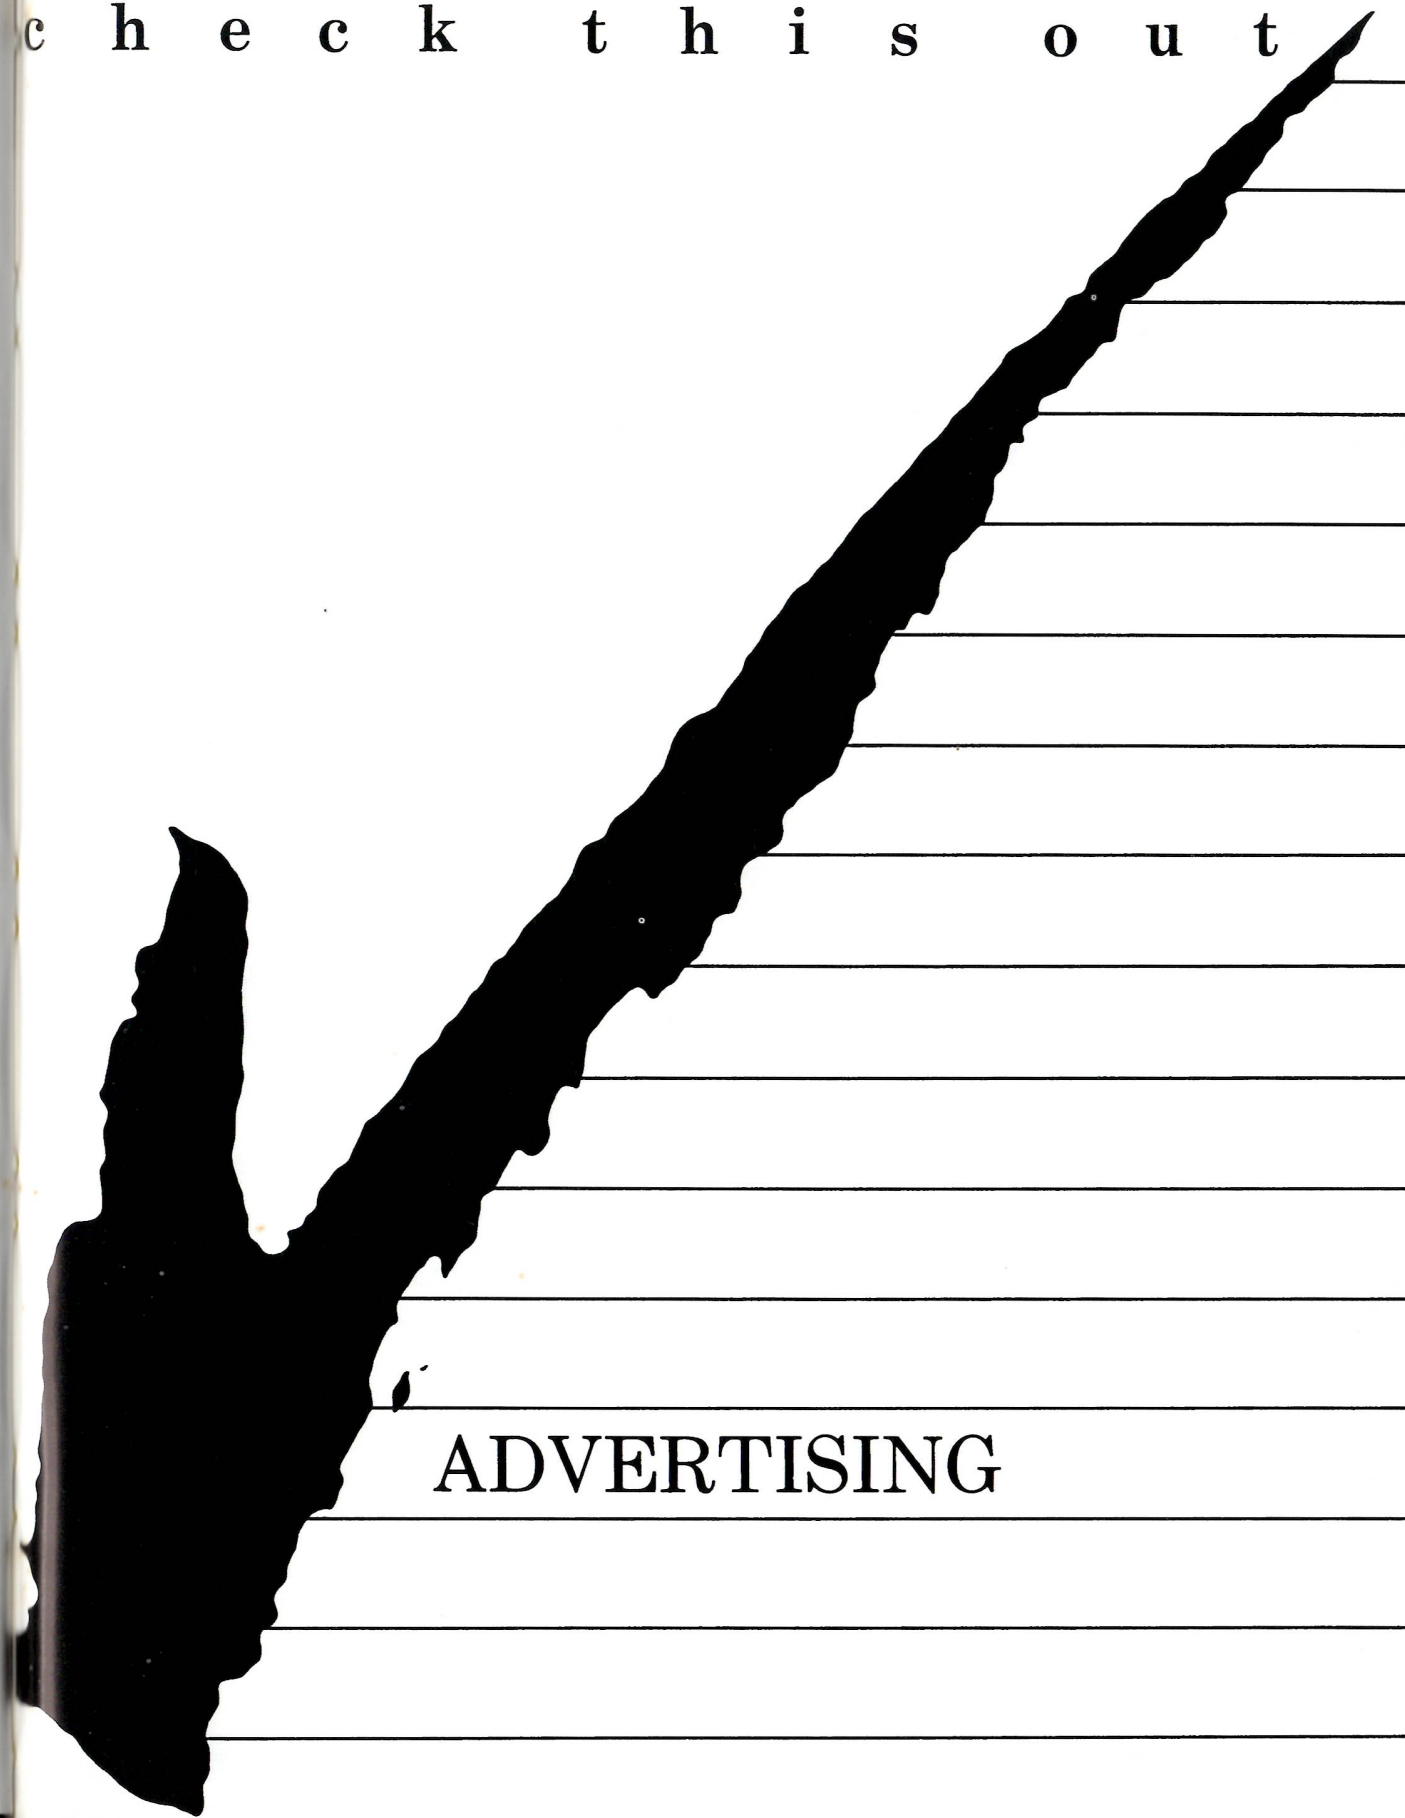

Then . . . SENIORS . . . and the end drew near!
Where did the years all go?
What once seemed long, seemed
now so short,
When relived blow by blow.

The Jr.-Sr. whirled right by.
You saw your girls and boys
As gentlemen and ladies fair . . .
Your biggest, brightest joys.

Not long from now, great moms and dads,
Your men and women grown,
Will move from high school into life,
Proud products of your home.

Congratulations, moms and dads,
You've lived through twelve long years.
When there's applause graduation day,
It's meant for your proud ears!

STUDENTS AGAINST DRIVING DRUNK

The SADD Chapter worked closely with the school's "Just Say No" Drug Campaign, since the two are so closely related. Members participated in the PARTNERSHIP FOR A DRUG FREE LOUISIANA YOUTH RALLY at the state capitol. Each class decorated their door to show their support of a drug and alcohol free school during "Substance Abuse Awareness Week."

Goals of S.A.D.D.

- To eliminate the drunk driver and save lives.
- To alert students to the dangers of drinking and driving.
- To conduct community alcohol and drug awareness programs.
- To organize peer counseling programs.
- To help students who may have concerns about alcohol and drugs.
- To encourage young people to obey all the laws regarding alcohol and drug use.

Memories are most prized possession. You have done a great job in helping us preserve these memories. This is a year of FIRSTS for us. It was our first trip to the Sweet Sixteen, the first year of the exit test, the first major new building program, and the first cool graduation.

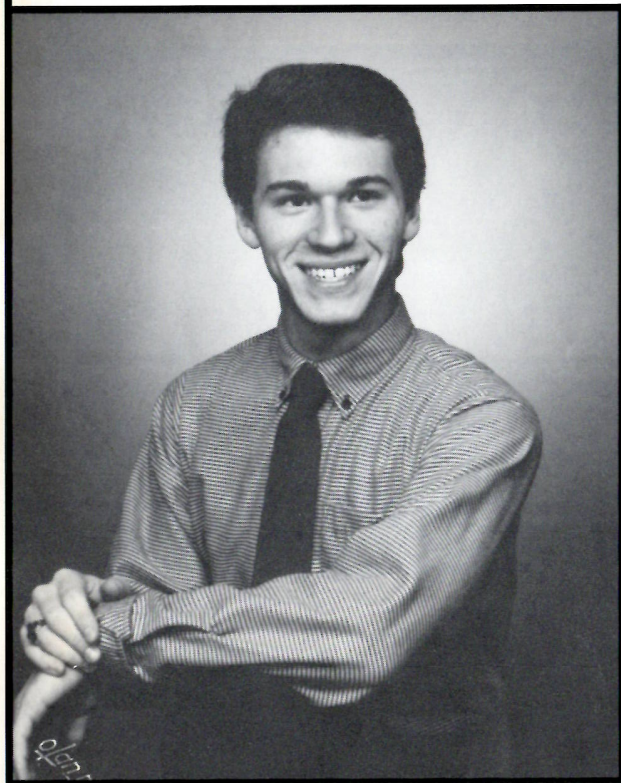

Congratulations to the annual staff and thanks for the memorabilia contained in these pages.

Pearl Leach, Principal

It has been another wonderful year for us at Grand Lake High. We have had great success in the academic field, as evidenced by the number of scholarships awarded to our senior class. Also on the athletic field, success came to both boys' and girls' athletics. As we look back on the school year, may we have fond memories of it.

Jim Melanson, Asst. Principal

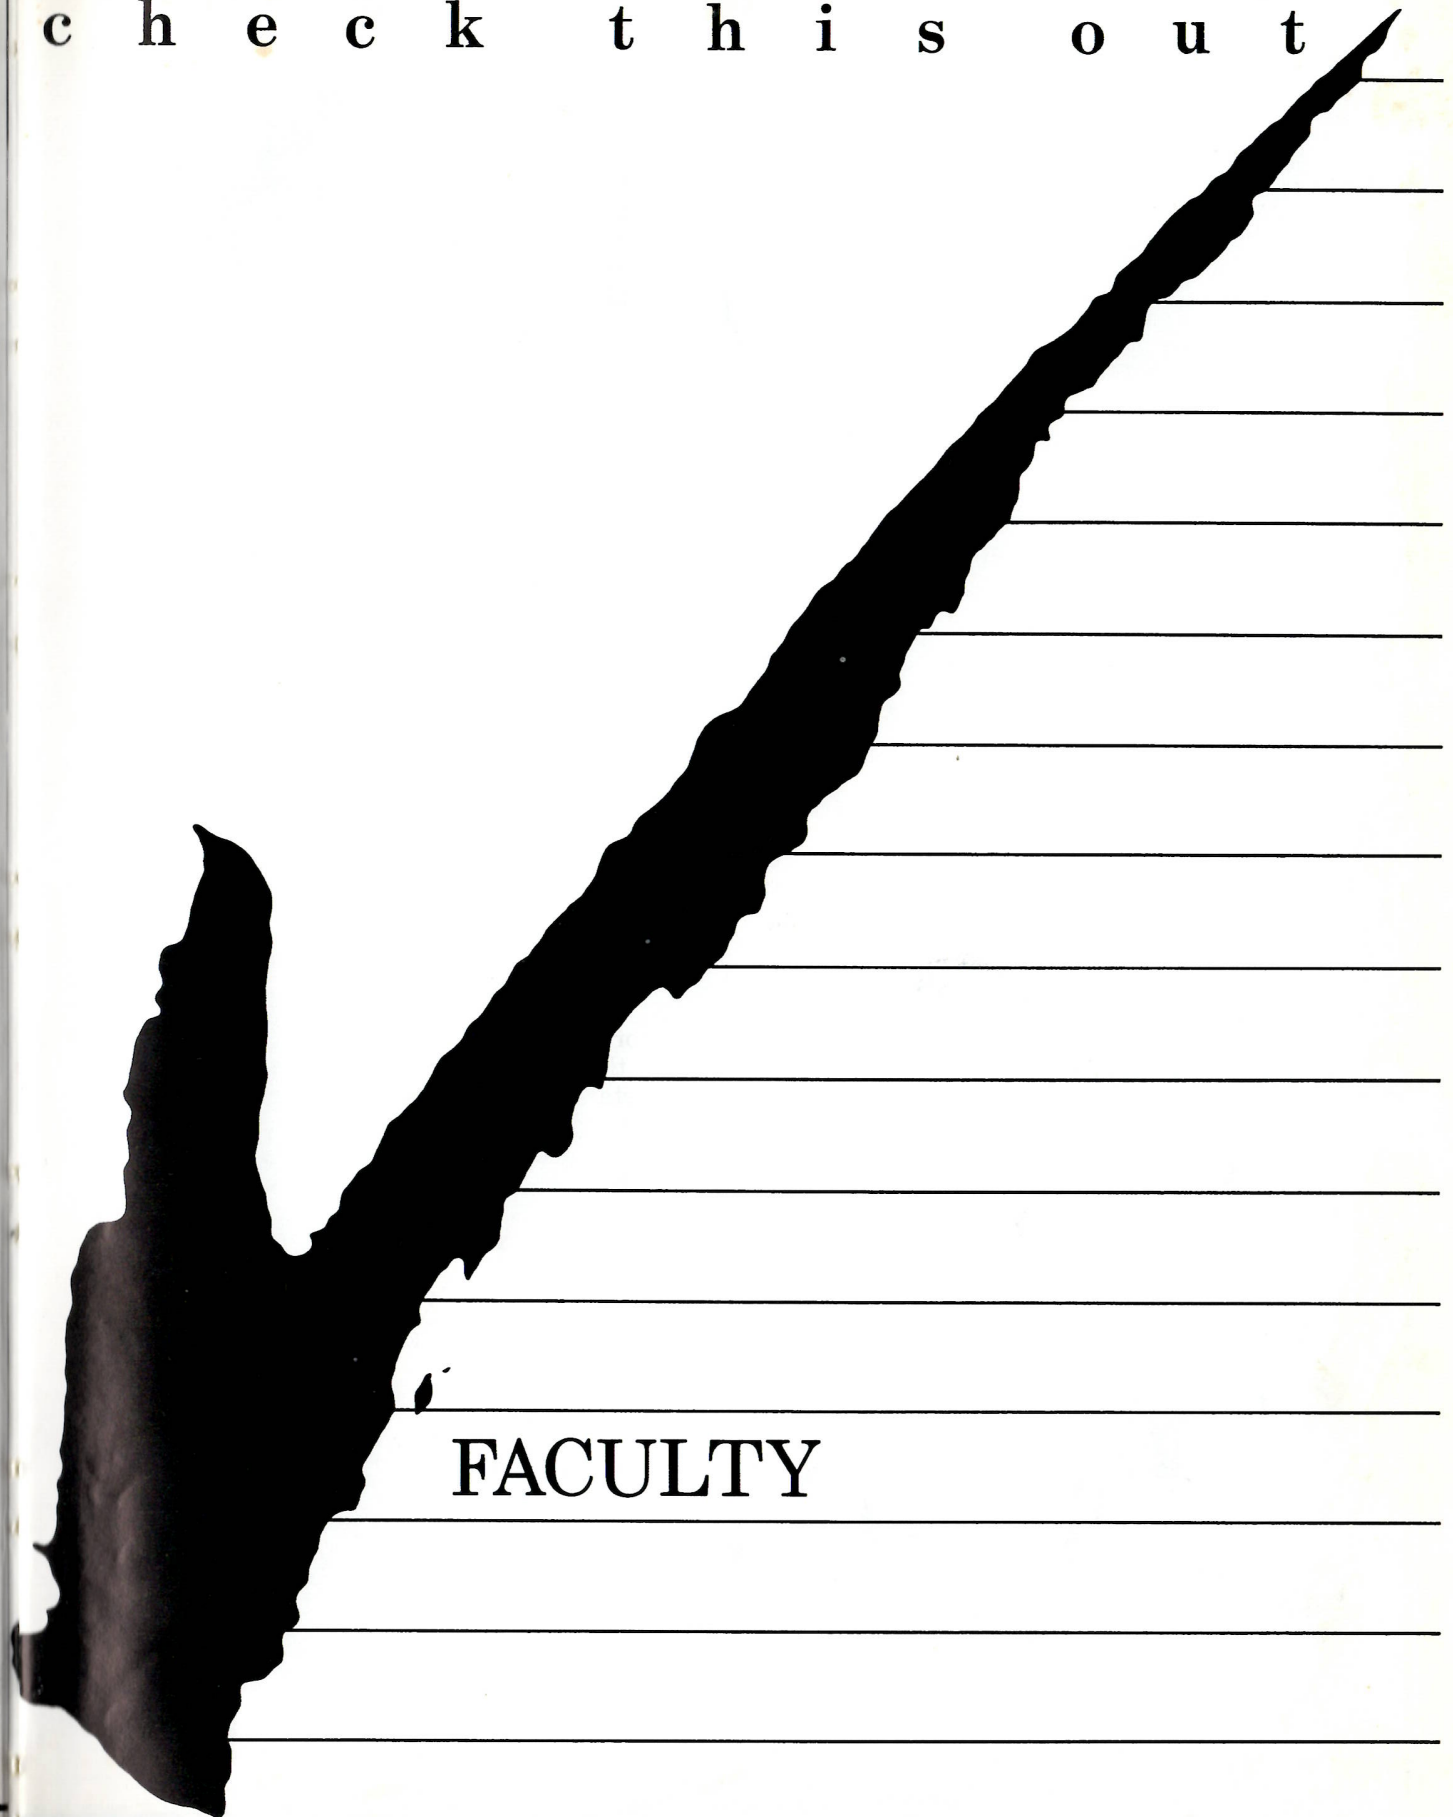

As Editor, I'd like to thank Mrs. Valere for her support; the annual staff for all the work; and the faculty, staff, and students for their cooperation. I would also like to thank those staff members who joined at mid-term and did not get their names printed. Neither you nor your hard work has been forgotten.

It is our goal to make this not only a year book, but a scrap book. We have tried to include moments which have made this, the end of the eighties, a special time to remember. So go ahead . . . CHECK THIS OUT!!

Scott Poole, Editor
