HERE!

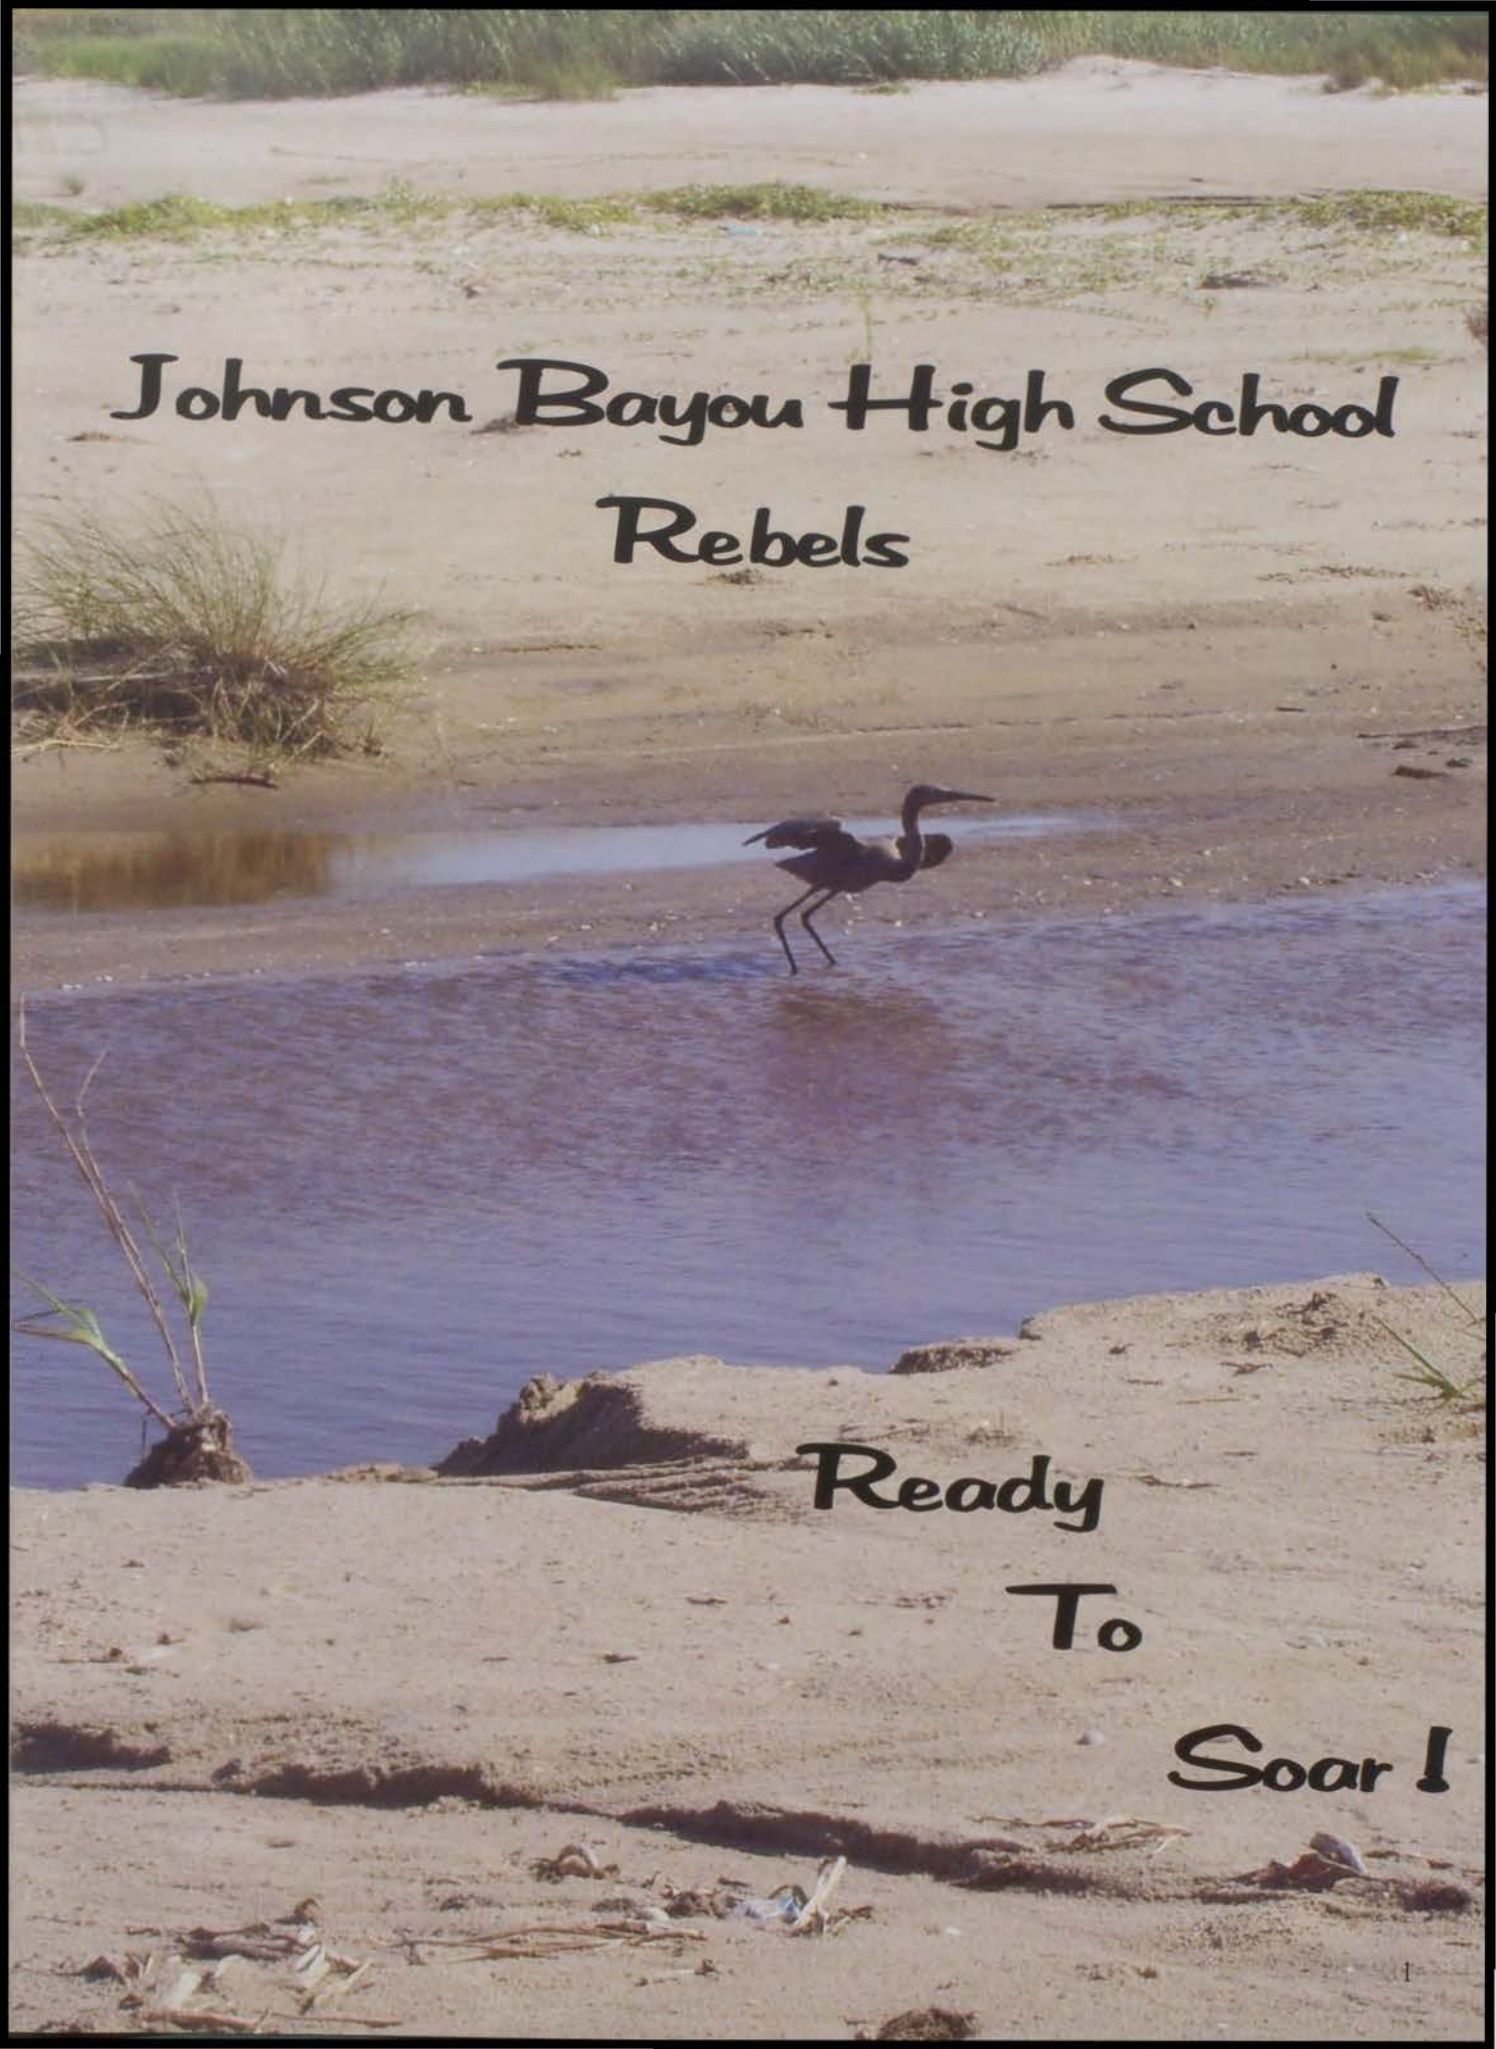

THE FUTURE

Rebel

A black heron stands in a shallow bayou, its long legs partially submerged in the water. The bird is positioned in the center of the frame, facing right. The water is a deep blue, and the surrounding banks are sandy with patches of green and brown vegetation. The overall scene is a natural, coastal environment.

Dedicated to
Gene and Martha Reynolds

Many, many thanks for choosing to stay instead of leaving when it would have been so easy to walk away. Thanks for suffering with us, crying with us, and celebrating with us. You chose to work many long hours helping Johnson Bayou High School rebuild its school, its traditions, and its REBEL Spirit. Your willingness to stand beside us in our greatest hour of need will never be forgotten, nor will your efforts to help our students envision greater achievements both in academics and athletics.

I expect to pass through life but once. If therefore, there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do to any fellow being, let me do it now, and not defer nor neglect it, as I shall not pass this way again.

William Penn

There have been many who have come our way. Some have stayed but most have left. Not just anyone can appreciate what Johnson Bayou has to offer. You must understand that living with less is far better than possibly compromising your beliefs, ideals, or your identify.

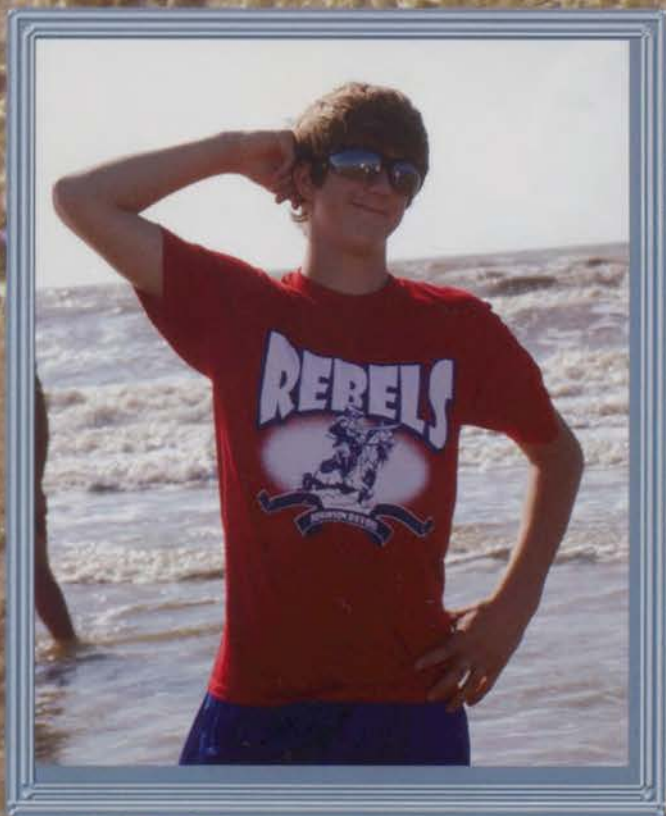

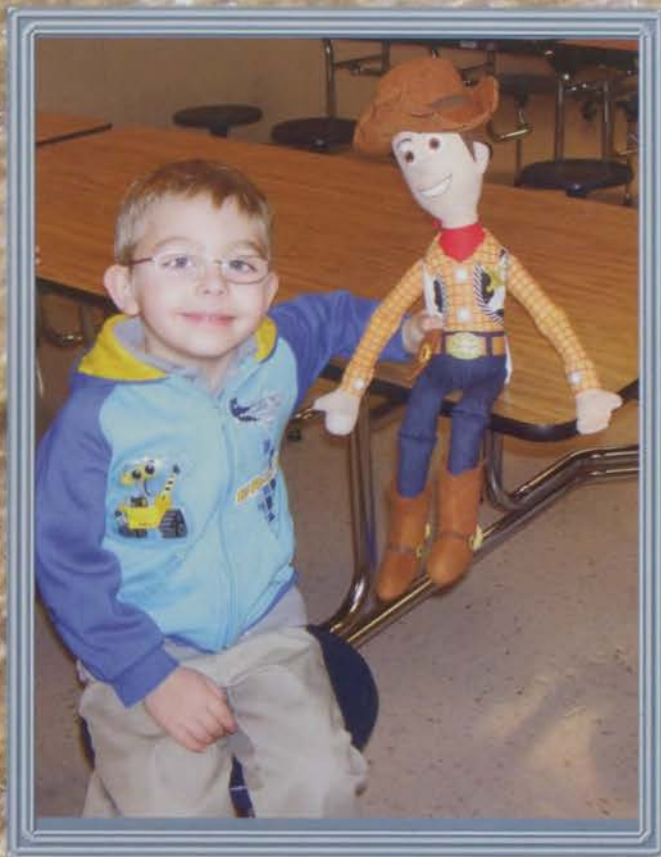

IT IS A PLACE WHERE.....

Everybody is Somebody.....

Everybody knows your name.....

Everybody comes when you're in need....

Things don't change and that's a good thing...

This 2009 - 2010 year began with many obstacles. JBHS would have to dig in its heels and dedicate many hours to rise above the challenges of long bus rides for practice, cold recesses, fatigue, and little time for study. But one thing was for sure.....

Junior Prophecy

We foresee Janice "Hactoo" Trahan finishing Sowela and returning to her roots in the bayou country. Being the "Cowgirl" she is, she finally convinces her Grandpa Leroy to let her run the cattle business... Since making money is her plan and the cattle business is in the pan she decides to reopen Bayou Convenience using the latest restaurant technology! It's a hit and folks come from miles around to taste the goods. This time at Bayou Convenience... Janice IS on fire..... but she won't get burned!!!!!! We foresee Colton, "ooo coach oooff ahh", Stanley entering the navy where he excels at boot camp by breaking all running and swimming records. However, when the Sarg asks him to skip his weekend pass Colton loses his temper (image that) and ends up in the brig. He soon learns his lesson and completes his tour with a physical education degree. Landing a job in "ole" JB Colton finds himself coaching a new crop of Rebels. This time HE has to put up with THEIR attitudes. Remember Colton, what goes around comes around.... And it's Christy, "Turbo", Rarick breaking onto the Nascar scene as she gives Danika Patrick a run for her money as the best female racecar driver. She livin' in the fast lane and reelin' in the doe until that little "anger" problem gets her disqualified from the Daytona 500. But life has a way of keeping us humble.....While taking anger management classes and working her way back to Nascar, Christy teaches Driver's Ed at JB where she and Colton share their "former temper tantrums" with the students.....We foresee Miranda, " Is Miranda here?", Trahan leaving the United States for backpacking adventure in Europe. For extra money she dabbles in street art and is discovered by the Europeans as a very talented artist. What was her "Off the Wall" drawings has now become works of art worth millions. She finds herself overwhelmed by fame and retreats back to the solace of the bayou. With royalty from her paintings she lives a stress-free life of luxury and occasionally subs at the rec. We foresee Whitney, "O scream baby", Roberts taking a break from college to take sky-diving lessons. However, half-way through the jump she discovers she is afraid of heights. Needing to find a career path fast (says Daddy), she returns to college where she focuses on becoming a kindergarten teacher. Upon graduation she lands a job back at JBHS. What a coincidence! She, Colton, and Christy all teaching a JB. Oh yeah.....Look out kiddos, Whitney likes to scream!!!!!! Oh yes, and then there's Scotty, "ZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZ", Stanley. Nike has Michael Jordan, Nascar has Junior and now Energizer has SCOTTY!! After losing his job with Tempurpedic mattress for sleeping on the job, Energizer gives the bunny the boot and hires Scotty as it new Energizer Spokesperson. Everybody knows He can Go and Go and Go!!!! He movin' on up and he's havin' a blast but we all know that it will never last! Sure enough on the day of a big photo shoot, Scotty is discovered sound asleep. No one can wake him and bunny soon gets his old job back. Scotty ponders his future.....when he gets the idea to bottle his energy. You guessed it.....It's found in the dairy section and it's name is "Fast in a Glass" Scotty's own version of Coffeemilk. The secret is out and he soon becomes a millionaire where he can sleep and sleep and sleeeeeeeeceeee. Then there's Michael, "All Star", Trahan going off to college and getting his degree at UTI as a diesel mechanic. Opening his own shop "Bayou Built" he also gets his own TV show based in Florida. With his faithful sidekick, Alexis, they make boo-koos of money. Being the country boy that he is, Michael decides to bring his money back to JB and create a theme park called Bayou Playground. A park catering to hunters and fisherman of all kind. It's a hit and JB's back on the Map. The newspapers say Michael's living in Heaven on Earth, but we all knew that about JB a long time ago. We see Shelby "Cool" Trahan going off to college and becoming the national high jump champ. As the 2012 Olympics draw near Shelby is anxious to compete. After her 7' 11" record breaking jump Shelby is asked how she feels about her latest accomplishment. And her reply is, "Cool". With fame comes sponsors and Coca Cola asks her to be the spokesperson for their newest high caffeine energy drink. Her script is short as her lines and the name of the drink are exactly the same. When shooting startsthe Interviewer asksWhat is your secret to getting so high?? ... She holds up her drink and replies "Cooooool". And finally we have, Owen, "Don't ask me", Trahan retreating to the mountains of Colorado after graduation. Here he plans to hunt, fish, and live a life of leisure and contentment. Wait a minute.....Isn't that what we all strive for????????? We thought it took years of education and financial investment to get to where we could "enjoy" life? Perhaps we've had it all wrong..... If we seek contentment first..... then all of the other stuff doesn't matter. Thanks for the lesson, Owen.

Johnson Bayou students plant rows of young bitter panicum plants on the beaches near Johnson Bayou. As the plants grow, the sand is trapped around them, and sand dunes are formed. These dunes help lessen beach erosion.

Senior Will

I, Colton, first would like to thank my mom and dad; you never thought I would be here did you, because I sure didn't. Coach Brent, thanks for everything you did, you not only helped me with my attitude on the court, but also off the court and thanks for all the rides and talks. Mrs. Juanita, thanks - you were right - you are like my second mom, thanks for always being there. Mr. Tony, my main man, thanks for everything. Chelsey I know we had our fights but you're still my cousin so you're stuck with me. To Morgan - I leave confidence. You're great at what you do and don't need anyone to tell you otherwise. Richard, I won't forget every day you coming up to me having something to say, going to miss that. Ian, make it to ALL - I mean ALL - games next year, thanks for everything. Blake Badon - my iron lungs; keep up with the mile don't stop just because I won't be here, you will be great at it one day. Colton Jinks, I leave you ability to be more aggressive on the court just not to get so mad so easy. Trust me, it is not worth the headache after. Just relax and listen to coach. Kyle, my buddy, you knew this was coming I leave you my acceleration and my brakes you got speed, you just have trouble getting up there and on occasion - stopping. Dakota - slow down. Life and school are too short for you to keep going and going, just take it slow and easy. P.S. leave other people's girlfriends alone. Damian, my ability to run fast and learn how to let go of the dollar. Scotty what can I say... you will always be my little bro.. even though you're bigger than me.. thanks for everything man... even the fights came in handy sometimes. Lil Brandon wow Lil B what can I say, I still love you man Rebel for life. To the Senior Class of 2010, we had a bumpy road but it's been great... be careful out there. I, Scotty, Scooter McGaven, would first like to thank God for the talents that he gave me. Mom and Dad for always claiming me as your son even when you didn't want to and being there for me as well as pushing me to do my best in anything I do. Now, where do I begin? I thank all my teachers and coaches for dealing with me and my severe ADHD over the years. To Coach Brent, thanks for everything you did on and off the court. Dakota, Chelsey, and Morgan ya'll have always been there no matter what - I hope after I graduate we all can remain close. To Colton J. and Brian - both my baseball skills. Ya'll have the potential to become great players in any sport, and Colton try not to get hit in the face anymore you, too Derek. To Blake Badon - my crazy pitching skills because we all know I was the best pitcher on the team. Now Kyle, you have always been an ok friend but not a great one, just kidding, thanks for all the rides to town and to my girlfriend's house. P.S how much do I owe you for gas money? To Richard, my track skills and bring home the 2 mile state championship for me, and just keep hanging in there, only 4 years left. Ian I leave u my basketball skills and if you're looking for me you know I will be on the beach fishing so grab a pole and come on. Little Derek, I will you all my crazy catches I have made in the outfield over the year, use them wisely. Finally to my big bro I save the worst for last. I would like to say, hope to see you in the future but I know I will see you when I get home, thanks for all the support even when I did not want it. To everyone during my 13 years at JB, I will never forget all the fun times I shared and believe me they go by really fast so cherish every moment you have. To the Class of 2010... we had a great run but like all good things it must come to an end so good luck in the near future. I, Michael Trahan, would like to thank God and everyone who has been there for me. Mom and Dad, I appreciate everything you do for me. Coach Brent, thank you for always being there for me and the team. To Cameron - my insane poker skills, one day you might get close to beating me. Colton Jinks - the ability to get off x-box live for just one day. Tristan - you can have the number 20 jersey, but remember it was mine before yours. Ian - the ability to make it to every game and pick on people your own size. Brian - Ninja Wars won't always be on Facebook, find a new hobby. Daria - the ability to be a pro at H-O-R-S-E, cause you know I am. Alexis - what can I say you're the best, just relax and keep your cool. Blake - my jumping ability. Damian - my basketball skills, everyone knows you need them, jk your good. Kyle - the ability to warn people before you break wind. To Greg I mean Richard - just keep making people laugh. Dakota - the ability not to be such a smart alec all the time. To the class of 2011 enjoy your last year it really does go by fast, well it did for me anyways. To the senior class thanks for all the great years. I, Shelby Trahan, thank God for all the amazing years here at JBHS. To my Dad and Mom thank you for all the help throughout the years. I love ya'll so much. Just think, your little girl is growing up. Mrs. Juanita - I do not know what to say, thank you so much for all the help you have ever given to me. Gaylin - my most amazing piano skills and my video skills to make amazing memories, because Gaylin there is nothing like goofing off with your BIG cousin. Whitney - make sure that soccer player stays away from my cheerleader. Alexis - my ability to stay strong and keep up with those hurdles girl. You will always be Number 1 in my heart. To Ian and Richard, thanks for all the amazing hugs and laughs ya'll are truly amazing. Keylee - my little cousin, my ability to not be nervous, because it is not worth worrying about something you're good at. Daria - You are going to be an amazing bb player. Remember to always work hard and you will conquer anything. Chelsey - some of my height because you always said you wanted some. To my amazing bb team - thanks for all the great times; we had our wins and losses but no matter what happened we enjoyed every min. of it. To the juniors - you are now the ones that all the younger guys look up to. Always be a good example and enjoy this coming year. To the class of 2010 thank ya'll for all the amazing memories. I mean all the goofy wild memories. Without ya'll my last year would have been boring. I will definitely miss you all. I, Whitney Roberts, thank God, for without him, I wouldn't be standing here today. To my mom and dad, thanks for everything you have done, and for being there for me throughout the years. Chelsey - I leave some patience, your time is coming don't wish it away. Alexis - the ability to do your own work. I'm glad this is your last year in Spanish because I don't think you would pass without me. Katie - I leave you the little confidence that I do have your beautiful inside and out don't let anyone tell you different. Sarah - I this thought remember that once a rebel always rebel no matter where you go or what you do to your rebel roots always be true. Keylee and Daria - what little basketball skills that I do have because lord knows I didn't have much. Lady Rebels - the ability to dribble the basketball because Alexis won't be here forever. To my senior class I wish you the best in all you do. Thanks for an awesome 13 years.
